Mendes-France Cabinet Totters

Former Premier Mayer Touches Off Crisis On Africa Policy; Confidence Vote Asked

PARIS (AP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France, facing what appeared to be almost certain defeat, challenged the French National Assembly Thursday night to approve his policy in North Africa or throw him out.

The Assembly will vote on the question of confidence in the government probably early Saturday. The deputies will reconvene at Friday night to hear deputies make explanations of their votes on the question. This preliminary business probably will be cleared away by midnight.

Under the French constitution 24 hours must elapse between the time the Premier asks for a confidence vote and the actual vote.

Although the Premier, heading France's 20th government in a little over 10 years since liberation, appealed Thursday night "with all my force and conviction" for the support of the Assembly, he appeared to have helped his cause but little.

The fate of the government has been extremely doubtful for a week because many deputies have grown disgruntled over many things. But it seemed to have been sealed Thursday when former Premier Rene Mayer, broke with Mendes-France and came out against the government.

Mayer, is the leader of the right wing of the Radical Socialists, and Mendes-France is a spokesman for the left wing of the same party. Many deputies expected 20 or 30 members of the party, which has 76 seats in the Assembly, would follow Mayer. If they did Mendes-France, premier just a little over seven months, would be out.

Pressure
Although the vote would be on Mendes-France's policy of negotiating for democratic reforms to give North Africans more say in their government and undercut the nationalistic terror campaign there, many deputies hoped for his fall because he has put on pressure for the rearmament of West Germany. Others fear the reforms in economics, taxes, prices and production he is cooking up for France.

He declared Thursday night he would go ahead with his policies of negotiating with North African nationalists to relax tension there "even if it means reprisals and vengeance" from his political enemies.

He told the deputies only two policies were possible in Tunisia, Algeria and Morocco. One, he said, was his policy of undertaking reforms in the direction of self-government and relaxing the tensions with North African nationalists who have been carrying on terroristic activities for years.

The alternate policy, he said, was one of police repression to put down all violence and discontent.

Sharply, he told the Assembly he had thoroughly explained his policy on three previous debates and won its consent. There has been no development since the last debate on Dec. 11, he declared, and hence no reason for the Assembly to change its mind now.

If any errors had been made, he added, Mayer had shared in the responsibility since Mayer had supported him on the previous votes.

"He seems to think, six months later, that we are liquidating French North Africa," said the Premier.

Civic Building Report Is Near

C. C. Kimball, chairman of the city-county building committee, Thursday said the committee will have its final report ready on or before March 1.

Kimball's statement followed a committee meeting Thursday at which a general discussion of the city-county building problems were discussed.

Kimball said the discussion included the financial feasibility of a city-county building. Details will not be released before the final report is issued.

Stevens Rebuffs M'Carthy

Belsky Will Get An Honorable Discharge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Army Stevens rebuffed a demand from Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) that a dishonorable discharge be given an Army private who invoked the Fifth Amendment last year before the Senate Investigation Committee then headed by McCarthy.

The Pentagon gave reporters Thursday a letter from the Army secretary dated Feb. 1, telling McCarthy that such action as to Pfc. Marvin S. Belsky would be both illegal and damaging to Army morale in the absence of "information to establish subversive conduct."

Stevens noted that Belsky is due for discharge Friday and told McCarthy: "Therefore, I again earnestly request that you submit before that date any evidence or information upon which evidence can be developed with reference to any alleged subversive conduct on the part of Belsky."

McCarthy could not be reached immediately for comment.

No Commission
The senator had written Stevens Jan. 24 suggesting a dishonorable discharge for Belsky.

The exchange was one of a series they have had about the case of Belsky, a Bronx, N. Y., doctor who was drafted into the Army but did not receive a commission because he would not fill out loyalty forms.

In an earlier exchange, after McCarthy demanded a dishonorable discharge for Belsky, Stevens told him the Army did not intend to let a draftee escape his service by invoking the Fifth Amendment or failing to fill out loyalty forms.

Belsky was once promoted to corporal, but the Army later rescinded the promotion and reprimanded a colonel who authorized it. McCarthy had protested the promotion.

No Names
On Jan. 15, McCarthy told newsmen that Stevens, in a letter on Jan. 22, had requested that the senator provide the names of his informants in the Belsky case. McCarthy said he had declined to do so.

In his latest letter to McCarthy, Stevens wrote:

"I did not request the names of informants, who (as your letter states) 'gave us the information on Mr. Belsky,' and I do not at this time request such information."

Stevens also again told McCarthy that Army investigations of Belsky "do not provide grounds for court-martial action against him."

The seminars are held biennially while the Legislature is in session to acquaint those taking part with legislative procedure and current bills.

Fifty persons, about half of them pastors and half of them laymen, attended this year.

The cables hold, and prevent 40-foot drop from highway 6 overpass.

Tumble From Overpass Barely Missed

Hanging by a cable in a car 40 feet from the ground in a driving snow storm is an experience two Lincoln men are not likely to forget.

William Calfee, 34, of 3917 St. Paul and Max Gould, Safety Patrolman C. E. Whitney said, escaped certain injury when the car they were riding in was caught by a cable guard just after the vehicle went off an overpass.

The accident occurred Thursday night on the Highway 6 cut-off overpass west of Lincoln.

Patrolman Whitney, who witnessed the narrow escape from injury, said the Calfee car had passed another car going up the overpass.

Whitney said the Calfee car went out of control while traveling north, skidded into the west lane of traffic and spun off the east side of the overpass.

The guard cables caught the bumper of the car, Whitney said.

America Deplores Red Flouting Of U.N.

... Congress Firmly Backs Defend-Formosa Decision

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Thursday night deplored Red China's rejection of a bid to United Nations cease-fire talks as a "further flouting" of the U.N.

A State Department spokesman, press officer Henry Snydman, announced that the United States will consult with other members of the U.N. Security Council about a Council meeting to consider the Red Chinese turn-down.

Red China's rejection of the U.N. invitation was criticized meanwhile by senators as ill-tempered and insulting.

The general reaction in Congress was that the United States must firmly back up its commitment to defend Formosa. There were differences of opinion as to whether the cease-fire move is dead.

"The Chinese Communist appear to think they can either shoot or break their way into the United Nations," said Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee. He referred to Red Premier Chou En-lai's demand that Nationalist China be ousted from the U.N. Security Council.

Rejection Certain

"Public opinion in this country and the free world will certainly reject the Chinese Communist proposal and they know it," Russell said.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, called Chou's answer "ill tempered" and said it now "appears obvious that the Chinese Communists are not prepared to discuss a cease-fire on any honorable terms."

Knowland added that unless the free world is prepared for a Far Eastern Munich, "this is a place to let the Communist Chinese regime stew in its own juice."

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, called the Chinese Communist reply an insult to the U.N. and all the free world nations.

He said it showed that Red China has no intention of co-operating with the U.N.

U.N.'s Invitation Is Rejected By Chou

TOKYO (Friday) (AP)—Red China today rejected the United Nations' invitation to participate in talks on a cease-fire for the Formosa Strait.

Premier Chou En-lai informed the U. N. he will not send a spokesman to New York unless Nationalist China is ousted from the U. N. Security Council. And in any case, Chou said, he would send a representative only to discuss Soviet charges that the United States is guilty of aggression against China.

Votes in the U. N. have shown it is not prepared to pay such a price for Red China's participation in discussions. Only last Monday the Security Council overwhelmingly voted down a Soviet demand that Chiang Kai-shek's ambassador be excluded from the Formosan debate.

U.S. PRODDING CHIANG ON TACHEN DECISION

TAIPEH (Friday)—(INS)—Top Nationalist Chinese defense leaders officially announced today following a conference with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek that 20,000 troops on the invasion-threatened Tachen Islands will defend their positions "at any cost."

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is reported urging Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to make a quick final decision on evacuation of his troops from the Tachen Islands since the reinforced 7th Fleet cannot be held in a state of readiness indefinitely.

Diplomatic sources said Thursday the Chinese Nationalist leader is balking at making this decision until he gets a firm American guarantee for the defense of Quemoy and Matsu, coastal islands. He is understood to have taken the position that the morale of Nationalist forces could be severely damaged if the Tachens were abandoned without any offsetting guarantee for Quemoy and the Matsus.

President Eisenhower, on the other hand, is said to have made clear to Chiang through diplomatic contacts that the United States does not intend to make any iron-clad, public guarantee to defend Quemoy and the Matsus. Thus a deadlock has arisen.

The Tachens are 200 miles north of Formosa and Eisenhower has decided that they should be evacuated since they are not essential to Formosa's defense. But the troops and the decision are Chiang's.

For the second straight day there was no report of any Communist activity in the Tachen area except for the usual shuffling of supply ships.

The Defense Ministry said Nationalist bombers caught a Red convoy Wednesday night near Yikiangshan, eight miles north of the Tachens, and in an attack two large Red vessels "were hit and exploded."

Nationalist officials discounted some published reports that the Red ships were an invasion fleet. There were indications that if the United States gives no guarantees for Matsu and Quemoy, the Nationalists will ask to reconsider the whole Tachen question.

The Nationalists, say sources who should know what is going on, would prefer to make a death stand for the Tachens.

These sources gave the impression the United States once agreed to give assurances about Quemoy and Matsu, then changed its mind.

North Platte's 9 Inches Heaviest In Five Years

Mansion On Present Site Recommended

A new executive mansion at the present site south of the Capitol was recommended Thursday by the budget committee of the Legislature rather than the purchase of a house in an outlying residential district.

Gov. Victor Anderson was requested by the committee to contact the state association of architects about procedure in getting plans for a suitable building.

Gov. Anderson and his family will continue to occupy their own home in northeast Lincoln until the Legislature has acted.

Two bills have been introduced proposing erection of a new executive mansion. One would take the money out of the state general fund. The other would take it out of the state institutional building fund. The amount is the same in each bill—$200,000.

At least three Lincoln residences have been considered in the last two years for possible purchase as a home for governors.

First was the home of the late Frank Woods on Sheridan boulevard. This property now has been sold and is no longer available.

Before announcing its decision Thursday, the budget committee had considered the Philip Hardy home in the Piedmont section at the east edge of Lincoln, and the home of the late W. Bruce Shurtliff.

Chairman Hal Bridenbaugh said the committee decided in favor of building on the present location for two reasons:

A structure built for the purpose would be more usable than a converted private residence; and proximity to the capitol would be an advantage.

Bridenbaugh said he personally hopes the proposed structure will be in keeping architecturally with Nebraska's fine capitol.

He said the Andersons have expressed the wish to co-operate with the legislature.

Winnie Calls Cabinet Meet On Formosa

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill late Thursday night called an emergency Cabinet meeting for Friday to consider the Formosa situation.

He made his decision after a Foreign Office spokesman had expressed "extreme" disappointment at Red China's blunt rejection of the United Nations' invitation to discuss a cease-fire in Formosa Strait.

The Churchill government had taken a leading part in arranging the invitation.

Red China's conditions for attending the meeting at the United Nations were termed "impossible" by British officials. Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China said these conditions were: Red China must have Nationalist China's seat in the U. N., and the United States must be cast in the role of defendant on charges of aggression.

Air Force, Despite Weather, Announces Short Pants OK

The Air Force is gonna wear shorts!

That's the word from a story which tapped its way into the warmth of the Star's wire room late Thursday, as the snow swirled down outside.

International News Service reported the Air Force has approved a summer uniform including "a long-sleeved bush coat, long AND SHORT trousers, and an open-neck short-sleeved shirt."

The new uniform will be for officers, and allowable only during hot weather. The uniform will also include a tropical style sun helmet and (of all things) three-quarter length socks. The wire service didn't say so, but apparently knees will show.

The Air Force said Thursday that while approval has been given, the regulations governing the wearing of the new ensemble are not yet written. And they expect that writing to take some time, and some heavy thinking.

In Lincoln, Col. William G. Gillespie was probably speaking for many Air Force officers. He said, "When summer comes, we'd be glad to see it. Tonight it seems like a long way off."

Col. Gillespie commands the Lincoln Air Force Base 818th Air Base Group.

Drifting Begins In Midstate Area; Roads Hazardous But Mostly Open

Snow — blowing and drifting ahead of moderate winds—gripped Nebraska by Friday morning and was expected to continue through the day and into Saturday. Beginning in the west early Thursday, the deep-piled snow covered the state by nightfall in the worst storm of the season. Visibility was cut and roads were hazardous, but passable.

North Platte was the hardest hit reporting point in the state. The heaviest snow to strike that city since 1950 left nine inches on the ground by early Friday, with the snow still continuing.

Hastings had eight inches of snow on the ground.

The drifting centered in the eastern part of the state, where winds were the highest, early Friday.

No drifting was reported in the North Platte area, but strong winds were reported from Lexington to Grand Island and at O'Neill, and drifting had begun.

Early morning snow measurements and precipitation for the preceding 12 hours were:

	Inches
Lincoln	3 .15
Omaha	3 .12
North Platte	9 .35
Hastings	8 .35
Falls City	6 .35
Burlington	6 .40
Sidney	6 .02
Grand Island	5 .
Imperial	4 .09
Fremont	4 .
Valentine	4 .

A. E. Anderson, state-federal crop statistician, said that if the snow stays on the ground, "It is out there where they need it the most."

Another snow covering would be good for western Nebraska, he said, explaining that they need the moisture to keep the dust from blowing and to provide protection for the winter wheat.

Roads Dangerous

All highways west of Lincoln were snow covered, snow packed and "dangerous," the State Safety Patrol reported. Visibility was down to zero in some areas.

The first accident resulting from the storm was reported near Friend. A Continental Trailways bus en route to Lincoln from Kansas went into the ditch, but was able to continue on to Lincoln more than an hour later.

The only highway reported closed late Thursday was State 29 from Mitchell to Harrison.

Winds were expected to be 15 to 20 miles an hour Friday and bring considerable drifting of the snow. The forecast called for little change in temperatures, meaning continued cold with the high in the 20s over the state.

The Weather Bureau said the snow would be occasionally heavy Friday and would not diminish until Saturday.

Piles Up Rapidly

By late Thursday afternoon snow depths had reached six inches at Sidney and Holdrege, and five inches at Scottsbluff, Chadron, Alliance, McCook, Lexington and Grand Island. Imperial and O'Neill had about two inches.

The storm didn't reach Norfolk, Lincoln and Omaha until late in the afternoon but the snow began to pile up rapidly.

Five to six inch drifts were reported at Omaha Thursday evening, caused by a heavy snow and winds of about 25 miles, with gusts to 40 miles and hour.

School was dismissed at Polk when "blinding snow" moved in. The children were taken home on school buses. Snow also forced cancellation of the North Central Conference basketball tournament at Valentine.

In Lincoln the snow was expected to accumulate to three to four inches by Friday morning with the day's high to be about 25.

Large Area

The snow was part of a storm which blanketed most of the north and central plains westward into the northern and central Rockies.

Snow flurries with wind gusts up to 50 m.p.h. whipped Rock Springs, Wyo. Many Wyoming and Colorado roads were reported closed. Torrington, Wyo., had 11 inches of snow by late Thursday afternoon.

Meanwhile, the northeast third of the nation was stung by its worst cold wave in years. The mercury plunged to an unofficial —42 at Forestport, N. Y. Maine had its 10th consecutive day of below zero cold. The temperature in New York City was the lowest in seven years and the coldest ever for the date. Philadelphia, with 5 above, had its coldest day for the date since 1881.

A Compact Statehood Bill Eyed

House Demos Plan Hawaii And Alaska Bill For President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Daring a possible presidential veto, House Democrats are considering sending President Eisenhower a bill to admit both Hawaii and Alaska to statehood.

The bill may hit the House floor later this month. It is the subject of current hearings before the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee.

Originally, separate statehood bills were planned for the two territories, but some influential Democrats suspect that the President would sign the Hawaii measure and veto the Alaska bill.

By including the two areas in one measure, Congress would put the President on somewhat of a spot, since he has urged statehood for Hawaii only.

Problems

In his state-of-the-union message last month, the President said there was "no justification" for further delay in bringing Hawaii into the union, while Alaska "should expect to achieve statehood" when its "complex problems" are solved.

That, in the opinion of many Democrats, was a thinly veiled hint by the President that he would not approve an Alaska bill. Moreover, the Democrats have been tipped by top Republicans to expect a veto.

Optimist Head Asks Juvenile Narcotics Law

The president of the Optimist International advocated here Thursday the tightening up of legislation against the sale of narcotics to juveniles, making such sales a felony.

Advocating such laws on a state-by-state basis was Maurice Perkins of Louisville, Ky., who said many states are enacting such laws as one of the efforts towards combating juvenile delinquency.

Perkins is completing a tour of nine midwestern states which started Jan. 10th.

Pointing to the youth work of the Optimist Clubs throughout the United States Perkins noted that juvenile crime has increased by 8.5 per cent from 1953 to 1954. The figures, he said, were made available by J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI.

Perkins told some 300 local Optimists and their wives at the Cornhusker Hotel that close to $9 million has been spent by the Optimists in the past few years on youth work. He said 20 years ago, the Optimists worked with 17,000 youth and that this figure had increased to 700,000 last year. He said that if something isn't done soon to combat the juvenile problem in the United States, there will be, by 1960, more than a half million delinquents in this country alone. He noted that more than 1,000 youth clubs are in operation by the Optimists at the present time.

INITIAL OKAY IS GIVEN DRAFT LAW EXTENSION

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill extending the draft law for four more years after June 30 was approved 32-0 Thursday by the House Armed Services Committee.

Pentagon officials estimate that if Congress passes the bill 674,000 young men between the ages of 18½ and 26 will be tapped for two years of military service during the extension period. They will also be required to spend six years in the reserve.

Two changes in the Selective Service system were approved by the committee after hearings lasting two days.

One would exempt from the draft any man joining the National Guard before he is 18½ and remaining in it until he is 26.

The other would provide that anyone who served for six months or more in the Army, Air Force, Marine Corps or Coast Guard, or 24 months in the Public Health Service, after Sept. 16, 1940, is not liable for induction except in the event of a declaration of war or a national emergency proclaimed by Congress.

The House is expected to debate the draft extension next week, with passage almost a certainty.

Test Truck-Trailer To Be Built Here

A pilot model truck-trailer will be built at the Havelock Shops here, Chicago officials of the Burlington Railroad have announced.

Plans for the model are not complete and no date has been set for construction to begin, Havelock Shops Superintendent B. H. Barrett said.

The announcement by H. C. Murphy, CB&Q president, said two types of pilot models would be built here. The city pickup model is a 24-foot aluminum van-type trailer. The second, a 33-foot model, is designed for long distance hauls.

If the pilot model proves satisfactory, Murphy said, several hundred truck-trailers may be built.

Whether possible production of truck-trailers here would result in additional employment will depend on other business conditions, Barrett said.

Anderson Is Pleased With Albert Hiring

Gov. Victor E. Anderson said Thursday he is "highly pleased" with the man hired by the Board of Control as director of Nebraska penal institutions.

He said Col. B. B. Albert "seems to have experience, the right attitude and a common sense approach" to the problems he will handle.

Gov. Anderson said he thought Col. Albert had the highest qualifications of the five persons who were being considered for the position.

A member of the Legislature who has been a critic of the Board of Control in the past, Sen. Lester Anderson of Aurora, said selection of a director is "a step in the right direction."

But Sen. Anderson said his resolution making it mandatory to have a state penal director is not dead, though it has been tabled by the public health committee.

The Board of Control has the right to create the position of state penal institution director, as it did several weeks ago, but is not obligated to do so.

Sen. Anderson said his bill "still is necessary" because "this Board of Control may have a constructive attitude now, but we don't know about boards in the future."

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A former woman wrestler known as "Nature Girl" told police she once offered $10,000 to kill Harry E. Weaver as part of a $100,000 extortion plot.

Ex-Commie Says He Used False Data From Joe's Office Against Demos

... McCarthy's Wife, Surine Cited

NEW YORK (AP)—Ex-Communist Harvey Matusow said Thursday he campaigned against several Western Democratic senators in 1952 using what he described as "false documents and materials" he said were supplied by the office of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Matusow, who has sworn he lied in helping convict 13 second rank Communist leaders, was asked how reporters could tell whether he was now telling the truth.

"There is no way you can be sure," Matusow said. But he repeatedly declared he was now telling the truth and was not a "plant" of the Communist party to discredit congressional investigating committees.

Matusow, 28, spoke at a news conference held in connection with publication of a book he has written, "False Witness." It is to be published by Cameron and Kahn, Inc., early in March.

A Reprint
Matusow, as an example of what he called false documents used by him in the 1952 campaign, said that in campaign speeches he cited publication of an article by Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) in the left-wing magazine New Masses.

Actually, Matusow declared, the article was a reprint of a Senate speech by Mansfield published in the Congressional Record and available to anyone.

Matusow said he used the New Masses article in speeches "leaving the implication that (Mansfield) had knowingly written the story for the magazine."

Asked if McCarthy knew of his use of the article, Matusow replied: "Jean Kerr was in on it and Don Surine." Jean Kerr, now McCarthy's wife, and Surine were on McCarthy's staff.

Was Re-Elected
"Sen. McCarthy said, in substance, 'We've got to beat Mansfield,'" Matusow asserted, quoting the senator further as saying, "It would be as bad as having a Communist sitting in the Senate" for Mansfield to be re-elected.

Mansfield was re-elected. Matusow on Monday filed an affidavit supporting an application for a new trial for 13 second string Communist leaders convicted of conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

In the affidavit, Matusow said he lied to help convict the 13. Roy M. Cohn, then an assistant U. S. attorney and later chief counsel for McCarthy's committee, "helped formulate" some of his testimony, Matusow asserted.

A federal grand jury has subpoenaed Matusow to appear here Monday, apparently to question him about this affidavit.

Expelled Him
Matusow said he joined the Communist party in 1947. In 1950 he became an informer for the FBI on Communist activities and in 1951 the party expelled him, he said.

Since then Matusow has testified before congressional committees brobing communism and in trials of accused Communists.

As a self-described "professional witness," he said, his income "far exceeded anything I ever hope to have again."

A newsman asked what led him into this career. "Fear" had something to do with it, Matusow declared, adding:

"And then this is a good racket, being a professional witness. I was in a hurry to get places. It was the easy way out for me . . . I became addicted to newspaper headlines and stories about me . . . and the type of glamour the professional ex-Communist has in this country."

'No Knowledge'
Matusow mentioned an appearance he said he made before a congressional committee in which he claimed there were more than 100 Communists on the staff of the

HARVEY MATUSOW . . . 'No way you can be sure.'

New York Times and more than 70 on Time magazine.

"I had no knowledge of either publication," he said. He added that he testified "on the basis of hearsay information." He claimed this was with Sen. McCarthy's approval.

The publications came up in a discussion he said he had with McCarthy in a Milwaukee hotel on Labor Day, 1952.

McCarthy, Matusow stated, said he was "purturbed" by a Time magazine story about him that said he had served warm drinks on one occasion because he had no ice.

From there the talk went to alleged Communists in the American Newspaper Guild (CIO) and on the New York Times and Time magazine, Matusow said.

Matusow said he campaigned in 1952 in Montana, Idaho, Utah and Washington, as well as for McCarthy in Wisconsin.

Judge Spencer Says Counties Are Neglected But Important

County government was described Thursday night by District Judge Harry A. Spencer as the least understood, most underpaid—yet closest to the people of all political bodies.

Judge Spencer made his remarks before the state County Assessors Association in convention here.

"The idea that federal government should be a fountainhead of all security is a delusion," he said. "We must never forget that we build from the individual up—not from the state down."

He said the word "security" is crowding out the words "liberty" and "freedom" but without liberty and freedom, he added, there can be no security.

Special guests at the evening banquet were Gov. Victor Anderson, members of the Legislature and other state officials.

Anderson told the assessors that "next to the Legislature, I think I need you more than any other political subdivision in the state."

Earlier in the day, Bert L. Zuer of Des Moines complimented Anderson's choice of Fred Herrington as State Tax Commissioner because he had appraisal experience. Zuer is president of the National Association of Assessing Officers.

The Des Moines assessor stressed the importance of integrity in the face of demand by government for more revenue to support the services of a demanding public.

Among the other speakers during the day was Sid Bradley, assistant chief of the state Division of Resources, who asked for a favorable tax structure—although no special exemptions—to attract industries.

And Robert M. Armstrong, executive director of the Nebraska Citizens Council, explained that his organization's purpose was to give facts about government to the people.

The assessors end their meeting Friday with a business session that will include the adoption of reports and election of officers.

Lancaster County Assessor Arthur M. Davis is president of the association.

Douglas Joins In Heintze Tax Suit

Douglas County has joined the two new Lancaster District Court actions brought by an Omaha taxpayer, Norman T. Langstrom, against former State Treasurer Frank Heintze and his bonding company.

Langstrom's new actions separate the bonding companies in asking an accounting of gas and diesel tax funds allocations during Heintze's two terms of office.

The Douglas County cross-petition is similar to the Langstrom petition, except that it alleges in the suit against the Maryland Casualty Company that $170,000 was lost to the county through Heintze's failure to properly allocate the funds and $130,000 is estimated as the loss during the term of office covered by the Indemnity Insurance Company of North America's bond.

'Keep State Beautiful' Bill Advances

The "Keep Nebraska Beautiful" bill, LB 16, was voted out of the legislature's public works committee Thursday.

Introduced by Sen. Kathleen Foote of Axtell, the bill provides a fine of up to $100 for throwing or depositing any trash, debris or other refuse along a road, street, or alley.

The only exception would be in designated receptacles.

The committee also reported out a bill eliminating the requirement imposed early in the Korean War that a committee of state officials pass on projects to be financed with institutional building fund money.

Sen. Beaver of Beemer explained the restriction had been intended as a materials conservation measure, and is no longer needed. The so-called "de-frosting" committee consists of the Governor, Secretary of State, Treasurer, Auditor and Attorney General.

The public works committee held LB 133, which would prevent county board members from serving as county highway commissioner.

Three county attorneys appeared to oppose the bill. They were Roy Anderson of Washington County, William G. Line of Dodge County, and Paul Eagleton of Butte County.

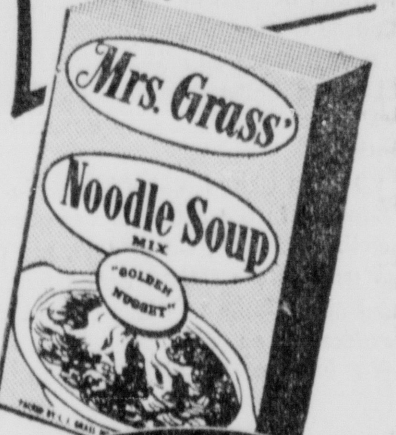

The committee voted to introduce a bill to permit public power and irrigation districts to contribute to charitable and eleemosynary institutions.

A similar bill passed two years ago was limited to Omaha and Douglas County.

Alabama Woods Combed For Five Escaped Convicts

DADEVILLE, Ala. (INS)—Alabama police combed a thickly wooded area near Dadeville Thursday to pick up the trail of five heavily-armed escaped convicts who slipped out of a trap in the isolated Goldmine Hill section.

The fugitives escaped from the Georgia State Prison at McRae and Wednesday kidnaped Alabama highway patrolman W. F. Hancock, who was released four hours later. Their getaway car was abandoned in the Goldmine Hill area.

Sheriff W. F. Barnes of Tallapoosa County, who is leading the hunt, said:

"It looks like they escaped in another car, but we're going to keep a force in this area just in case they didn't."

Bloodhounds failed to pick up the trail, but searchers found a fire, frying pan and pots which were believed to have been used by the fugitives.

Gratifying Progress

Within the last two months, the news columns tell us, 36 new oil wells have been put into operation in three Nebraska counties—Cheyenne, Kimball, and Banner.

This is a cheering record, but there was bitter along with the sweet. While 36 new producing wells were being brought in, there were 58 dry holes, each one representing a snug investment, to be charged up to experience. The conclusion is that it is a wonderful feeling when you land in the money, but when it comes to drilling for oil, the greenhorn must be able to lose—quickly frequently he is not.

We can all take comfort in the fact that in a 60-day period, Nebraska's daily crude oil production rose from 20,000 barrels every 24 hours to nearly 26,000 barrels, an increase of almost 30 per cent. A few years of this type of development and Nebraska's oil industry will be adequate to attract the attention of some of the neighboring states already producing huge quantities of oil.

Half-Closed Door

He did not say "no" and he did not say "yes". We are referring to the reply Red China's premier, Chou En-lai, made to the invitation issued by Secretary Dag Hammarskjöld of the United Nations for discussion of a Formosa cease-fire agreement.

It was bargain day in Peiping, or at least the Chinese Communist government had that notion. The invitation was rejected unless:

(1) Red China is given the Chinese Nationalists' seat on the Security Council of the United Nations.

(2) The United States is cast in the role of a defendant in the council's Formosa discussion. Both conditions, we assume, are unacceptable, not only to the United States but, we trust, to the United Nations. China did not slam the door irrevocably on sending a delegation to New York but in typical Communist diplomatic protocol set such a tremendously high diplomatic price for China's appearance as to chill any hopes that a cease-fire status in Formosa waters is in the immediate future.

Unconfirmed stories circulating in Washington to the effect that the Eisenhower administration foresees an uneasy stalemate on Formosa take on new colors. The brighter hues based on the belief that a show of firmness in reference to Formosa had clarified the issue and had improved the prospects for peace were fading. There is no surprise in Red China's reply. The Communists are playing it out to the hilt, and whatever hopes have been created in this country that we have discovered the formula for dealing with them must be tempered with caution. They know what they want and they are out to get it. If anything, we have been outmaneuvered again in the Far East.

It's Time To Vote

Fluoridation of Lincoln's water has grown to maturity as a public question and a decision one way or the other is in order.

As it stands after several years of discussion the Lincoln-Lancaster County Board of Health has given the additive its unqualified endorsement. It has studied the professional evidence from the point of view of public health and has completed a survey of Nebraska areas where water either contains a natural fluoride content or receives it by administration. It believes that fluoridation is not only safe but desirable. It has checked the question into the city council with recommendations for favorable action.

It is understandable that the council is reluctant to take the original responsibility for the decision. Lincoln citizens are captive to their water supply and fluoridation is a controversial matter. Not all see eye-to-eye with the Board of Health. Moreover, while it may be held that treated water is better than untreated, it must be conceded that fluoridation is not vital to general health and welfare. The council is not on its firmest ground in making a decision when the general health and welfare element is not clear cut.

There seems then to be but one answer. The question should be referred to the voters. The question should be decided and the responsibility should be placed where it can best be served.

Deferring the question, if one grants its maturity, is not a service to the community. It becomes by negation a decision against fluoridation. It is not a position of neutrality. It simply refuses expression to those who may be for the program and the question lingers.

At The Wrong Window

It might have seemed surprising to some the other day to see the United Mine Workers and the National Coal Association go arm in arm to Washington to protest to the House Ways and Means Committee against President Eisenhower's reciprocal trade policy.

The miners and the operators are better known for fighting each other. But this time they were looking at an ailing industry by which both must live and it brought them together to plead against importation of other fuels. In short their philosophy seemed to be that in order to enjoy a continuation of their intramural contention they had to have a business to contend over—the bone so to speak.

One can understand the concern of the operators and the miners. But it is doubtful whether a victory over reciprocal trade would help their case, albeit such a thing might seriously affect the national welfare. The coal industry is feeling the pinch of competition from other fuels, most of them American produced. Although barriers to foreign trade might serve as a palliative it would seem that the operators and miners would do their cause more good to join in projects for better industrial relations, combining to restore their products and by-products to a stronger competitive position in the market.

New Rule On Humor

In Communist Yugoslavia the government has taken firm steps with humor. It has decided that humor has to be funny and that laughter, as the result of it, must be spontaneous.

Perhaps a totalitarian government thinks it can get away with it, but anyone in this free land who constantly has his ribs punched in by free-wheeling, unfunny jokesmiths who never tire of trying and never get a punch line in right is convinced that Yugoslavia has overreached itself. The malady is incurable. The only difference between freedom and totalitarianism is that in the latter the proper authorities can shoot the man who does it while in the former the public must take it.

Ambassador Dunn In Praise Of Franco

WASHINGTON — Ambassador James C. Dunn, long-time envoy to Spain, has given some amazing secret testimony to a congressional committee regarding the chief fascist nation in the world. His praise of Dictator Franco dripped almost like syrup as he told the congressional representatives of the country with the most representative government in the world the advantages of fascism.

So far, his remarks have not been made public.

Dunn, who was transferred to Brazil only this month, is a career diplomat and crouching partner of Cordell Hull. Dunn was a vigorous advocate of recognition of Dictator Franco and also urged an arms embargo against the Spanish loyalist government to help Franco.

His testimony was given to investigating congressmen when they visited Spain in September. Dunn reported that Dictator Franco was sitting solid with the Spanish people except for a certain amount of labor opposition; that relations between the United States and Spain was rosy, and he confidently predicted Franco would be able to carry on for 10 years while his dictatorship would continue for 25 years. Dunn even praised Franco's regimentation of women.

Congresswoman Katharine St. George of New York, the Republican who defeated isolationist Congressman Ham Fish, was skeptical.

FRANCO'S HEALTH

"Suppose in the normal course of events Franco should get out of the picture," she asked. "Who would take over?"

"We have given a great deal of thought to that," Ambassador Dunn replied. "General Franco is about 61 years old and in very good health. I think he is good for another 10 years or so because he takes very good care of himself. If anything should happen to him, I am convinced that there is someone here in Spain in the higher levels of the government who would be selected to carry on in his place. He has set up an arrangement already to name the successor."

"We have to face the fact," Dunn concluded, "that we will have this sort of regime here—a non-representative regime; but this type, which is fairly mild — for at least 10 years and possibly 25 before you would begin to have a return to a representative government."

"That is one of the troubles with these dictatorships," commented Congresswoman St. George. "You cannot tell when the one man may get out of the picture."

"They have to watch that very carefully, because if there's any interim this whole thing might flare up again," said Dunn.

"Are there any personal differences between our administrators and the Spanish government?" asked Congressman Charles Brownson, Republican, of Indiana.

"No," replied Dunn. "It's just too good to be true. To me it is a new sensation, because I have been in other countries where there have been such arguments, but not here."

The ambassador at this point obviously omitted the manner in which Franco has hiked certain U.S. military costs at the last moment and the unpleasant wrangle that the Air Force has had over the right of Protestant American G.I.s to marry Spanish girls unless they join the Catholic Church or the church gives approval.

REGIMENTATION OF WOMEN

Ambassador Dunn was also enthusiastic over the Communist-like regimentation of Spanish women.

"The women's organization is very interesting," he explained, "because they have the women all organized, and every young girl from about 17 or 18 or 19 has to serve at least six months in some social service — not military, but some social service — either helping in a hospital or producing something. They have a very fine school in which they train the leaders of those girls."

The American ambassador's conclusion was uncomfortably like the apologies Nazi leaders made for the Hitler youth movement.

"I have seen it in operation," he said, "and it certainly does not do them any harm. It does them probably a lot of good. They learn a certain amount of discipline and order, and in this whole movement they are always inculcating the doctrine of patriotism."

"It isn't a bad idea," he concluded, "unmindful of how closely the Fascist system resembled the same training methods we are opposing in Russia."

FRANCO'S STRENGTH

Describing the reasons for Franco's support, the American ambassador testified:

"The reason this present form of government and General Franco are carrying on and being supported and maintaining hold on the people here is because, in the first place, he has the support of the army . . . who are extremely loyal to him."

"Another element is this political group which is called the National Movement, which is deliberately whipping up a certain amount of patriotic sentiment."

Harriman Wrestles With State Problems

ALBANY, N.Y. — Gov. Averell Harriman is telling the people of New York state that the "pay as you go" financing of his predecessor, Thomas E. Dewey, was not pay-as-you-go at all and that the gap between income and outgo calls for new taxes.

Partly this is politics—an effort to destroy the carefully built up picture of Dewey, now in the private practice of law in New York City, as a model of the efficient administrator. For obviously political reasons the Republican legislature beat Harriman to the draw and passed two tax-cutting bills before the governor could unveil his budget. Harriman vetoed those bills with a stern message urging the Republicans to "get down to business" in meeting the state's obligations.

But as a newcomer to politics, Harriman is discovering the harsh facts of life with respect to the mounting costs of government at every level and the catch-as-catch-can method of meeting those costs. With his new administration, many of them out of the New Deal-Fair Deal era in Washington, he hopes to come up with some new solutions on both the spending and the taxing side.

As standards of public welfare have risen, one of the pressing problems not only in New York but in almost every other state has been the care of the mentally ill. Realistic accounts some years back of the "snake pit" type of institution, with fearful overcrowding, miserable care and often cruel and brutal treatment, brought widespread demands for reform.

Many of New York state's mental institutions were overcrowded firetraps and, under Dewey, a mental health construction bond issue of $350,000,000 was approved. At that time it was estimated the mental health institutions were overcrowded by 30 per cent. But so rapid is the increase in the number of patients that when the construction program is completed, it is estimated that the new and remodeled institutions will still be 20 per cent overcrowded.

Harriman is aiming at a new approach in this field, with the stress on research and the kind of care and rehabilitation that will make it unnecessary to confine in institutions such a large proportion of those with mental breakdowns. Each patient confined for life adds to the burden that is part of the mounting cost of state government.

The budget for the coming fiscal year calls for total expenditures of $1,345,200,000. This was largely fixed by the Dewey administration before Harriman took office last month. It compares with expenditures for the current year of $1,144,500,000. Harriman in his budget message charged that in the post-war years the Republicans lived off the surpluses accumulated during the war. He said:

"Sizable surpluses built up and provided a financial cushion for state operations that lasted almost to the present. They also constituted a kind of mirage for the officials of the state as well as its people. They led to the belief that the state was 'breaking even' when in fact it was not. They contributed to the feeling that the state had an inexhaustible 'kitty' of available funds and thus helped to persuade the public that it was not necessary to settle down to some hard, realistic planning about the future."

Harriman had previously told Democratic and Republican legislative leaders that the state would need $127,600,000 additional tax revenue to balance the new budget. The governor will have a hard time getting this out of the Republican legislature, which would be happy to embarrass him with a deficit that could be exploited for political purposes.

These problems are a long way from those with which Harriman dealt in the war and postwar years as a trusted lieutenant of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman in Washington, London, Paris and Moscow. Then, as Harriman put it today, you felt that every decision meant the difference between life and death, survival and disaster. The tension was of the order which now pervades Washington over the China-Formosa crisis.

There is nothing like that urgency here in Albany. But Harriman's ardent supporters feel that if he can demonstrate this year in his first elective office his ability to get on top of practical problems of state government, he will be one of the foremost contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1956. As they hopefully add this up alongside his international experience, they see the star of their candidate rising.

New Car Models And A Mark Twain Yarn

Newman Grove was looking after the pleasure and safety of its erecting protective barricades across streets near several of the best sledding hills in the area. And the only reason more adults weren't out there taking their turn was a minimum of the nimbleness required for such a strenuous pastime, but "it still looks like fun" to Velma Price of the Reporter . . .

Several landmarks of earlier days and ways were succumbing to progress and the pressures of these, our modern times. The Hoover Opera House of Nemaha, now being torn down, was once the very center for community activity of all kinds. There the many traveling troupes and medicine shows trod the boards for appreciative audiences, and later it was the scene for movies and school activities, class plays and commencements. It was even used for a schoolroom one year while a schoolhouse was being built. Passing of the years has diminished its usefulness, but not the fond memories of those who gathered there . . .

Of three items in the Tecumseh Burlington railroad yards symbolizing the steam locomotive days, the second is now being removed. The coal sheds were purchased and taken down last fall. The second, the water tank, has been sold and is now being moved away intact for resale, a major moving project being handled by professional house-movers. And the small brick water-treatment house near the water tank has also been sold but still remains, the last leaf on the tree . . .

We've heard of black rages, but now it's a pink and black rage among the best of masculine dressers at Ralston High, according to Reporter Ruby Dennis who jots down school news and fashion notes for the Ram-Page. Since the start of the second semester,

Mrs. John Kolacny is not one to let grass grow under feet—nor whiskers on her husband's chin, if she can help it. Persuasion failing, she took the next best step and cashed in on what she considers a rather deplorable domestic situation. It all started some eight months ago when Table Rock had a local festival and Whisker Club. Mr. Kolacny was one of about 30 beard-growers who participated. Following the festival, 29 razors bit the chin, but Mr. K. liked his so well, he decided to keep it—over his wife's prolonged arguments—until now it is long enough "to make several braids." Finally she wrote to a local radio station asking for advice. Should she put gum in his whiskers? Cut them off while the bearded beauty was asleep? Judged the best feller of the week, it was read over the air and Mrs. Kolacny presented with a brand new clock radio. "If another Whisker Club is in the offing this summer," the Argus surmises, "John ought to be in line to win several radios by festival time."

says "Dior" Dennis, "the rage has grown more each day. Everything from shirts, socks, pants, jackets, and T-shirts have been shown. This style is greatly appreciated by the Ralston girls."

The new look in cars came in for discussion, too. Duane Kunzman, writing for the Wakefield Republican, described them as getting longer and wider "while being lowered to the ground like a frog full of shot." Think back just 20 years or so, he suggests. "Cars had clearance in those days. Nowadays with present cars, you can't drive over a marble without getting high-centered." And it's not unusual, he says, to see a garage door propped open by the rear bumper, nor a garage whose sides have been built out so the car would fit in its stall . . .

R. E. Koepff, Plymouth News editor, still rattling along happily in his '41 model, takes note of advertising on the new crop of "low-friction" motors. His starts well these cold mornings, he says, and he is pretty sure he knows why. He has a low-friction motor, too—the bearings and pistons are so loose, there is no chance for friction!

A Springviewite, said the Herald, was ready to take his wife and five children for a ride one nice Sunday afternoon recently. The wife started out the door, then turned and said: "This time you put the coats on the children and I will go out and start blowing the horn."

Sudden Concern

Upland, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I am enclosing an article by Joseph Alsop covering the over-all picture of something I have been saying for two years. He has omitted, however, the inhuman, disgraceful disregard for the safety and protection of the soldiers we draft to do impossible jobs with inadequate forces and then abandon in prison or labor camps. A very recent report estimated at least 800 or more still unaccounted for.

I have been trying for a long time to undo some of the brainwashing the Nebraska public has been getting from newspapers and radio for 50 years. I was a victim for 20 years.

FAY L. DANKER

Editor's note: The Alsop article, carrying a Rangoon, Burma, dateline, wondered at the sudden concern here at home about the Communist threat in the Formosa area in view of what has transpired the past two years. "First and second Munichs," Mr. Alsop calls the Korean truce and the surrender in Indochina; and the non-protection treaty with Chiang, "an engraved invitation to the Communists to seize those islands." Loud talk in Washington, says Mr. Alsop, brands us as warlike aggressors to the peace-desiring Burmese and Indians. Burma has thus slipped, and "the big power, China, has begun to convince the little power, Burma." No defense line has been organized, and "the task of organizing one is getting harder by the month."

Fluoridation

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Just how many intelligent people believe that the dentists are really sincere when they tell us that if we allow the fluoridation of city water, it will cure the chief tooth decay troubles? Is it possible that a person or persons who study in order to obtain professional skill will then advocate something that will cause that profession to become unnecessary?

Surely the Creator made a water that would benefit all mankind instead of destroying it. In addition, I know some very good medical doctors who are opposed to the fluoridation of water.

I challenge all who are for fluoridation to show by actual facts that this is not true and that instead of fluorides benefiting teeth of any and all ages, they do not actually destroy the teeth as well as health.

Open Rat Holes

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Recently your newspapers carried stories stating that the United States was at last getting tough with Russia. They reported that large areas of this country are no longer accessible to Soviet diplomats. Since the Kremlin limited the territory into which American diplomats might travel, Washington was making a counter move.

What these newspaper articles failed to explain is that Russian Communists, working for the United Nations in New York, can go anywhere they have a mind to in this country, and that goes, too, for those from the Russian satellite countries which are no different from the Soviet Union. All our talk of keeping Russian diplomats within a prescribed area must

The Real Need

The big manufacturers, so says the Minneapolis Tribune, report an upsurge in the field of built-in home appliances—everything from electric clocks to ranges, TV sets and air conditioners. But it adds, "We like built-ins as well as the next fellow, but we are holding out for supreme achievement—an appliance that will keep the living room floor clear of toys and games on a Saturday when it is below zero outside."

So You Think We've Got Snow And Cold . . .

By EARL ARONSON
PRESQUE ISLE, Me.
The woman looked at the thermometer outside the Main St. drug store Thursday and said:
"I hope this mild weather continues."

The temperature was 8 above zero, and it was noon. But 8 above is quite mild compared to the record 42.2 degrees below zero registered officially here Tuesday and Wednesday's -29. Wednesday night 1 1/2 inches of snow fell, raising the ground cover to 39 inches. Nearby at Easton, the unofficial low Thursday was -55 at the U.S. Immigration station on the St. John River.

Potato Town
For several days this week the temperature didn't go above zero. Presque Isle, only a few miles from the Canadian border, has a population of nearly 10,000. The people—most of them have something to do with processing or shipping potatoes—are used to cold weather. Temperatures near -25 aren't uncommon at midwinter and don't disturb them.

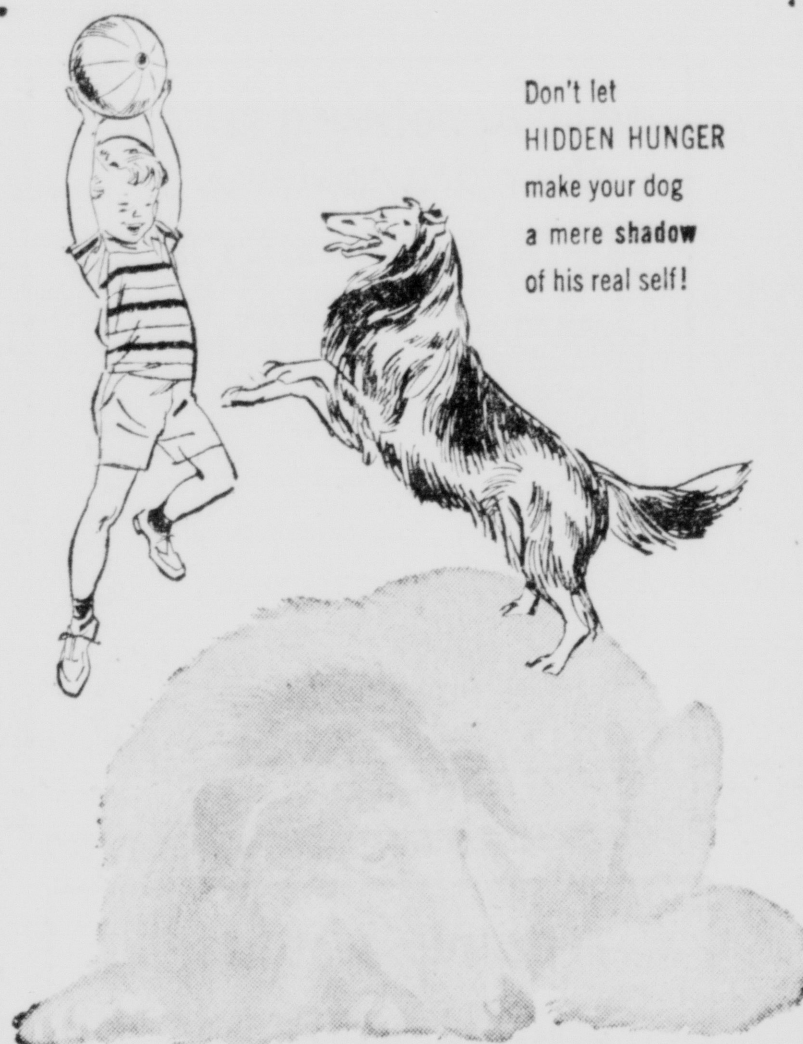

A Few More Clothes
A few automobiles needed pushing or towing.
What do the people do when the thermometer goes down to -42? Dick Meyer, news editor of radio station WAGM, says, "They put on a few more clothes if they aren't wearing them already and go about their business."

There might not be quite so many people or cars about in the morning but things look normal later when the shoppers start moving. Theater attendance is normal in this home of a big Air Force base.

Ice Dealers Like Cold
The potato men, waiting for spring to melt the deep snow for the ground to thaw, still congregate in the cooperative association office to watch the market prices.
Ice dealers welcomed the cold weather.
The deep snow had been acting as an insulator, and the ice wasn't thick enough to cut. When the cold came, crews went to work shoveling the snow off ponds and lakes. Today the ice is 23 inches thick.
The cold did affect railroad freight loading. Potato dealers didn't want to open their storage house doors.

Gratifying Progress

Within the last two months, the news columns tell us, 36 new oil wells have been put into operation in three Nebraska counties—Cheyenne, Kimball, and Banner.

This is a cheering record, but there was bitter along with the sweet. While 36 new producing wells were being brought in, there were 58 dry holes, each one representing a snug investment, to be charged up to experience. The conclusion is that it is a wonderful feeling when you land in the money, but when it comes to drilling for oil, the greenhorn must be able to lose—which frequently he is not.

We can all take comfort in the fact that in a 60-day period, Nebraska's daily crude oil production rose from 20,000 barrels every 24 hours to nearly 26,000 barrels, an increase of almost 30 per cent. A few years of this type of development and Nebraska's oil industry will be adequate to attract the attention of some of the neighboring states already producing huge quantities of oil.

Half-Closed Door

He did not say "no" and he did not say "yes". We are referring to the reply Red China's premier, Chou En-lai, made to the invitation issued by Secretary Dag Hammarskjöld of the United Nations for discussion of a Formosa cease-fire agreement.

It was bargain day in Peiping, or at least the Chinese Communist government had that notion. The invitation was rejected unless:

(1) Red China is given the Chinese Nationalists' seat on the Security Council of the United Nations.

(2) The United States is cast in the role of a defendant in the council's Formosan discussion.

Both conditions, we assume, are unacceptable, not only to the United States but, we trust, to the United Nations. China did not slam the door irrevocably on sending a delegation to New York but in typical Communist diplomatic protocol set such a tremendously high diplomatic price for China's appearance as to chill any hopes that a cease-fire status in Formosan waters is in the immediate future.

Unconfirmed stories circulating in Washington to the effect that the Eisenhower administration foresees an uneasy stalemate on Formosa take on new colors. The brighter hues based on the belief that a show of firmness in reference to Formosa had clarified the issue and had improved the prospects for peace were fading. There is no surprise in Red China's reply. The Communists are playing it out to the hilt, and whatever hopes have been created in this country that we have discovered the formula for dealing with them must be tempered with caution. They know what they want and they are out to get it. If anything, we have been outmaneuvered again in the Far East.

It's Time To Vote

Fluoridation of Lincoln's water has grown to maturity as a public question and a decision one way or the other is in order.

As it stands after several years of discussion the Lincoln-Lancaster County Board of Health has given the additive its unqualified endorsement. It has studied the professional evidence from the point of view of public health and has completed a survey of Nebraska areas where water either contains a natural fluoride content or receives it by administration. It believes that fluoridation is not only safe but desirable. It has checked the question into the city council with recommendations for favorable action.

It is understandable that the council is reluctant to take the original responsibility for the decision. Lincoln citizens are captive to their water supply and fluoridation is a controversial matter. Not all see eye-to-eye with the Board of Health. Moreover, while it may be held that treated water is better than untreated, it must be conceded that fluoridation is not vital to general health and welfare. The council is not on its firmest ground in making a decision when the general health and welfare element is not clear cut.

There seems then to be but one answer. The question should be referred to the voters. The question should be decided and the responsibility should be placed where it can best be served.

Deferring the question, if one grants its maturity, is not a service to the community. It becomes by negation a decision against fluoridation. It is not a position of neutrality. It simply refuses expression to those who may be for the program and the question lingers.

At The Wrong Window

It might have seemed surprising to some the other day to see the United Mine Workers and the National Coal Association go arm in arm to Washington to protest to the House Ways and Means Committee against President Eisenhower's reciprocal trade policy.

The miners and the operators are better known for fighting each other. But this time they were looking at an ailing industry by which both must live and it brought them together to plead against importation of other fuels. In short their philosophy seemed to be that in order to enjoy a continuation of their intramural contention they had to have a business to contend over—the bone so to speak.

One can understand the concern of the operators and the miners. But it is doubtful whether a victory over reciprocal trade would help their case, albeit such a thing might seriously affect the national welfare. The coal industry is feeling the pinch of competition from other fuels, most of them American produced. Although barriers to foreign trade might serve as a palliative it would seem that the operators and miners would do their cause more good to join in projects for better industrial relations, combining to restore their products and by-products to a stronger competitive position in the market.

New Rule On Humor

In Communist Yugoslavia the government has taken firm steps with humor. It has decided that humor has to be funny and that laughter, as the result of it, must be spontaneous.

Perhaps a totalitarian government thinks it can get away with it, but anyone in this free land who constantly has his ribs punched in by free-wheeling, unfunny jokesmiths who never tire of trying and never get a punch line in right is convinced that Yugoslavia has overreached itself. The malady is incurable. The only difference between freedom and totalitarianism is that in the latter the proper authorities can shoot the man who does it while in the former the public must take it.

DREW PEARSON

Ambassador Dunn In Praise Of Franco

WASHINGTON — Ambassador James C. Dunn, long-time envoy to Spain, has given some amazing secret testimony to a congressional committee regarding the chief fascist nation in the world. His praise of Dictator Franco dripped almost like syrup as he told the congressional representatives of the country with the most representative government in the world the advantages of fascism.

So far, his remarks have not been made public.

Dunn, who was transferred to Brazil only this month, is a career diplomat and croquet partner of Cordell Hull. Dunn was a vigorous advocate of recognition of Dictator Franco and also urged an arms embargo against the Spanish loyalist government to help Franco.

His testimony was given to investigating congressmen when they visited Spain in September. Dunn reported that Dictator Franco was sitting solid with the Spanish people except for a certain amount of labor opposition; that relations between the United States and Spain was rosy, and he confidently predicted Franco would be able to carry on for 10 years while his dictatorship would continue for 25 years. Dunn even praised Franco's regimentation of women.

Congresswoman Katharine St. George of New York, the Republican who defeated isolationist Congressman Ham Fish, was skeptical.

FRANCO'S HEALTH

"Suppose in the normal course of events Franco should get out of the picture," she asked. "Who would take over?"

"We have given a great deal of thought to that," Ambassador Dunn replied. "General Franco is about 61 years old and in very good health. I think he is good for another 10 years or so because he takes very good care of himself. If anything should happen to him, I am convinced that there is someone here in Spain in the higher levels of the government who would be selected to carry on in his place. He has set up an arrangement already to name the successor . . .

"We have to face the fact," Dunn concluded, "that we will have this sort of regime here—a non-representative regime; but this type, which is fairly mild—for at least 10 years and possibly 25 before you would begin to have a return to a representative government."

"That is one of the troubles with these dictatorships," commented Congresswoman St. George. "You cannot tell when the one man may get out of the picture."

"They have to watch that very carefully, because if there's any interim this whole thing might flare up again," said Dunn.

"Are there any personal differences between our administrators and the Spanish government?" asked Congressman Charles Brownson, Republican, of Indiana.

"No," replied Dunn. "It's just too good to be true. To me it is a new sensation, because I have been in other countries where there have been such arguments, but not here."

The ambassador at this point obviously omitted the manner in which Franco has hiked certain U.S. military costs at the last moment and the unpleasant wrangle that the Air Force has had over the right of Protestant American G.I.'s to marry Spanish girls unless they join the Catholic Church or the church gives approval.

REGIMENTATION OF WOMEN

Ambassador Dunn was also enthusiastic over the Communist-like regimentation of Spanish women.

"The women's organization is very interesting," he explained, "because they have the women all organized, and every young girl from about 17 or 18 or 19 has to serve at least six months in some social service—not military, but some social service—either helping in a hospital or producing something. They have a very fine school in which they train the leaders of those girls."

The American ambassador's conclusion was uncomfortably like the apologies Nazi leaders made for the Hitler youth movement.

"I have seen it in operation," he said, "and it certainly does not do them any harm. It does them probably a lot of good. They learn a certain amount of discipline and order, and in this whole movement they are always inculcating the doctrine of patriotism."

"It isn't a bad idea," he concluded, "unmindful of how closely the Fascist system resembled the same training methods we are opposing in Russia."

FRANCO'S STRENGTH

Describing the reasons for Franco's support, the American ambassador testified:

"The reason this present form of government and General Franco are carrying on and being supported and maintaining hold on the people here is because, in the first place, he has the support of the army . . . who are extremely loyal to him."

"Another element is this political group which is called the National Movement, which is deliberately whipping up a certain amount of patriotic sentiment."

Loud talk in Washington, says Mr. Alsop, brands us as warlike aggressors to the peace-desiring Burmese and Indians. Burma has thus slipped, and "the big power, China, has begun to convince the little power, Burma." No defense line has been organized, and "the task of organizing one is getting harder by the month."

Fluoridation

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Just how many intelligent people believe that the dentists are really sincere when they tell us that if we allow the fluoridation of city water, it will cure the chief tooth decay troubles? Is it possible that a person or persons who study in order to obtain professional skill will then advocate something that will cause that profession to become unnecessary?

Surely the Creator made a water that would benefit all mankind instead of destroying it. In addition, I know some very good medical doctors who are opposed to the fluoridation of water.

I challenge all who are for fluoridation to show by actual facts that this is not true and that instead of fluorides benefiting teeth of any and all ages, they do not actually destroy the teeth as well as health.

Open Rat Holes

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Recently your newspapers carried stories stating that the United States was at last getting tough with Russia. They reported that large areas of this country are no longer accessible to Soviet diplomats. Since the Kremlin limited the territory into which American diplomats might travel, Washington was making a counter move.

What these newspaper articles failed to explain is that Russian Communists, working for the United Nations in New York, can go anywhere they have a mind to in this country, and that goes, too, for those from the Russian satellite countries which are no different from the Soviet Union. All our talk of keeping Russian diplomats within a prescribed area must seem humorous to the Reds. It's as silly as closing the hen house door to keep the wolf out—and ignoring the rate holes. I doubt if some of our officials in Washington know a Communist if they see one. They wouldn't recognize one unless he wore a hammer and sickle on his lapel, I'm sure.

Even Eisenhower while president of Columbia University was fooled. He denied that there were any Communists or sympathizers on the staff. Later two members of his faculty took the Fifth Amendment in testimony before the McCarthy committee.

Let's hope and pray that the men who run our country will soon wake up to the tactics of our enemy, Communism.

Room For Improvement

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I read in the January 30 paper that Gov. Sigurd Anderson has signed a proclamation declaring February as "Go to the Movies" month. This will be fine provided we have worthwhile shows. So often the theaters advertise murders, sex stuff, etc. This does not appeal to many people. True, we have had some excellent movies this past fall such as "Caine Mutiny," "The High and the Mighty," "White Christmas," and musical shows.

Last Thursday over the air a Hollywood critic denounced a movie currently playing here as "bloody, brutal and it nearly made me sick." Yet our boys go to this sort of shows. I know of parties of boys 10 to 12 years old who attended this movie. Is this an education for our youths?

The same Hollywood announcer said, "Mario Lanza is now rehearsing in a new show and is in fine voice and form." This is great news.

I wish we had censorship on some films to protect our young set.

May February be a month of worthwhile shows!

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Once the Nebraska State Board of Control made up its mind to yield to the clamor for a director for Nebraska's penal institutions, it was not long in getting it's man. He is B. B. Albert, retired Army colonel. Col. Albert spent his last 10 years of service in the Army as commander of various disciplinary barracks. The starting salary will be $9,000 annually, substantially more than that now drawn by the individual heads of the three penal institutions.

The selection of a director of Nebraska penal institutions—in practical effect the creation of a new post to reorganize and to bring Nebraska's penal institutions up to date—is in the nature of an experiment. Its value will be determined only after lapse of adequate time. But a director serving in the capacity of a supervisor was one of the more important recommendations made by Penologist Sanford Bates after an on-the-grounds study.

Wisely, we think, the board did not give its new director of penal institutions a blank check in exercising authority. Any changes which Col. Albert may desire to make in connection with the institutions must be submitted to the board as the court of last resort and approved by it before they can be initiated. That reservation is not a matter of lack of faith. It could serve as a check on spending. It is only hard common sense that the board, still in the last analysis responsible for the administration of all the institutions that come under its jurisdiction, shall not expose itself to the criticism of passing the buck or neglecting its responsibilities by bringing in a man to give his personal attention to penal problems. It would appear that the board merely was adding another man to its team, a man of broad experience who comes highly recommended.

It will be up to Col. Albert himself to demonstrate that he is the man for the job. And the exact nature of that job still is not clear. Sanford Bates had high praise for the food, the health and recreational programs now in force at the penitentiary. His fire of criticism was directed against other phases of prison administration—better pay for the guards, younger guards, employment of technically equipped people to augment the present staff, and finally, construction of a new building at considerable cost to house certain types of prisoners.

That means, if it means anything at all, that the experiment is going to cost more money—just how much more being uncertain at this time. But technical help of the type recommended by Expert Bates cannot be recruited easily or cheaply—a staff of guards meeting the requirements laid down by Mr. Bates would call for more revenue in the day-by-day operations of the prison—and whatever facilities in the form of new buildings are necessary will augment costs just that much more. To bring in a director without making financial allowance for any recommendations that he proposes fringes upon foolishness. The most Nebraskans may hope is that the price tag is not too high. But if it is high, then it should be remembered that a very considerable element, highly articulate and vocal, felt that we were not doing right in the field of rehabilitation of men who had gone wrong, and that we were guilty of brutality in the handling of them.

In all of this in all good time we will know what it cost us.

The Real Need

The big manufacturers, so says the Minneapolis Tribune, report an upsurge in the field of built-in home appliances—everything from electric clocks to ranges, TV sets and air conditioners. But it adds, "We like built-ins as well as the next fellow, but we are holding out for supreme achievement—an appliance that will keep the living room floor clear of toys and games on a Saturday when it is below zero outside."

So You Think We've Got Snow And Cold . . .

By EARL ARONSON
PRESQUE ISLE, Me.
The woman looked at the thermometer outside the Main St. drug store Thursday and said:
"I hope this mild weather continues."

The temperature was 8 above zero, and it was noon. But 8 above is quite mild compared to the record 42.2 degrees below zero registered officially here Tuesday, and Wednesday's -29. Wednesday night 1 1/2 inches of snow fell, raising the ground cover to 39 inches. Nearby at Easton, the unofficial low Thursday was -55 at the U.S. Immigration station on the St. John River.

Potato Town

For several days this week the temperature didn't go above zero. Presque Isle, only a few miles from the Canadian border, has a population of nearly 10,000. The people—most of them have something to do with processing or shipping potatoes—are used to cold weather. Temperatures near -25 aren't uncommon at midwinter and don't disturb them.

Even when the thermometer sank to -42, schools were open as usual. Attendance was normal except for the first three grades, where it was off 20 per cent. Over at Fort Fairfield the school buses froze and classes were called off for a day.

A Few More Clothes

A few automobiles needed pushing or towing.
What do the people do when the thermometer goes down to -42?
Dick Meyer, news editor of radio station WAGM, says, "They put on a few more clothes if they aren't wearing them already and go about their business."

There might not be quite so many people or cars about in the morning but things look normal later when the shoppers start moving. Theater attendance is normal in this home of a big Air Force base.

Ice Dealers Like Cold

The potato men, waiting for spring to melt the deep snow for the ground to thaw, still congregate in the cooperative association office to watch the market prices. Ice dealers welcomed the cold weather.

The deep snow had been acting as an insulator, and the ice wasn't thick enough to cut. When the cold came, crews went to work shoveling the snow off ponds and lakes. Today the ice is 23 inches thick.

The cold did affect railroad freight loading. Potato dealers didn't want to open their storage house doors.

County Corn Acreage Allotments Listed

6.3 Per Cent Increase Noted; Nuckolls, Thayer Mark Down

Nebraska's county corn acreage allotments for 1955 were announced Thursday by Charles Clark, chief of allotments and quotas for the state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

The state's 5,923,994 allotment yielded increased planting acres to 59 of the 61 commercial corn counties and granted a 6.3 per cent acreage increase over 1954 when the state allotment was cut to 5,692,096 acres.

Only Nuckolls and Thayer Counties will be reduced below 1954's planting allowance. The decrease was explained by Clark as the result of the adoption of a five year base period, instead of the former 10, by the Department of Agriculture, coupled with declining corn planting, in those areas during that period.

Earlier Figure Altered
An earlier computation of a 4 per cent greater planting in 1955 was altered upward when the Department of Agriculture excluded Red Willow and Frontier Counties from the commercial corn list.

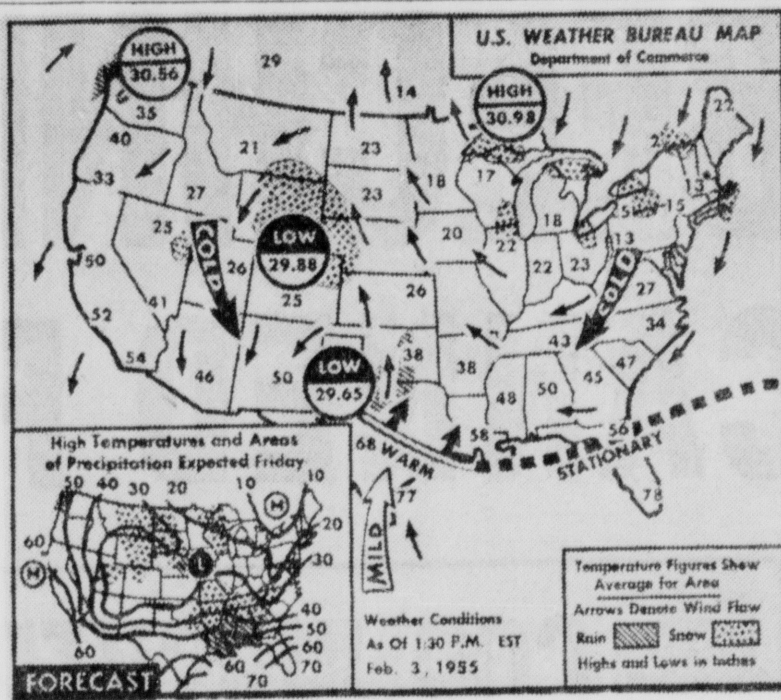

Clark said the county allotments would go forward immediately to the county committees where factoring of individual farm allotments will be conducted.

He predicted that the individual allotments would be in the producers' hands by Feb. 15.

Jury Changes Its Schedule

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A Federal Grand Jury looking into the conduct of an Internal Revenue Bureau investigation of James P. Finnegan when he was its collector here met Thursday in an unexpected session.

Government attorneys in charge of the hearings had announced that hearings would be held the first three days of each week with an adjournment until the following Monday.

No reason was given for Thursday's change in schedule.

Holt witness
Harold Holt, co-author of a 1950 report on Finnegan, was a witness the first three days of the hearings. Holt is an assistant regional internal revenue commissioner at Omaha and testified before an Omaha Grand Jury which began the tax inquiry in November.

Finnegan later was convicted of misconduct in office and sentenced to two years in prison.

Thomas E. Scanlon, who helped Holt write the report of Finnegan's activities, was a scheduled witness this week but hasn't appeared.

He was in Lincoln to testify in a public hearing on a bill concerning county commissioners.

Death was attributed to a heart attack by Chief Deputy County Sheriff Leslie C. Hasson, acting coroner.

A retired farmer, Mr. Beck was a lifetime resident of the Lyons vicinity. He was a World War I veteran and a member of the American Legion post in Lyons. He was also serving as treasurer of the Memorial Methodist Church at Lyons at the time of his death.

Survivors include his wife and two sons, David Jr. of Lyons and Harold of Boston, Mass.

Motions By Defense Overruled In Daniel Smith Murder Trial

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP)—Judge Frank Munday Thursday overruled three motions by the defense in the first degree murder trial of Daniel R. Smith, 25, Hastings.

Smith is charged with beating Patrick Walsh, 5, to death with a sledgehammer on a farm and a paving brick at the Walsh farm home after having beaten the lad's mother, Barbara, with a sprinkling bottle.

The defense, in the first motion, asked the court to require the state to withdraw the second count, murder while attempting to commit rape, for the reason it had not produced any evidence to sustain the charge.

Asked Reduced Charge
In its second motion, the defense asked that the first count, murder in the first degree, be reduced to second degree murder for the reason the state had not produced evidence to sustain premeditation and deliberation necessary to sustain the first degree murder charge.

The two motions were made after the jury had been sent from the courtroom and court recessed until Friday when final arguments are scheduled. Judge Munday ruled on both Thursday morning.

After hearing the judge's ruling on its two motions, the defense moved to require the state to elect which of the two counts it expects proceed upon to obtain a verdict. Judge Munday also overruled that motion.

Ballpark Issue Goes On Ballot

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—Hastings will go to the polls here March 27 to decide whether $97,000 in bonds should be issued for a new ballpark.

The proposed construction would consist of a steel and concrete stadium across from Cody Park.

Stanton Attorney Pleads No Contest To Tax Charges

OMAHA (AP)—Robert J. Swanson, Stanton, Neb., attorney pleaded no contest Thursday to two charges of failing to file federal income tax returns in 1951 and 1952.

The government alleged that Swanson earned approximately $18,000 for the two years. Federal Judge James A. Donohoe deferred sentence.

Swanson was a candidate for Stanton County attorney last year.

Contractor Fined
Judge Donohoe Thursday levied a fine of $7,500 and costs on John P. Mainelli, Omaha contractor, who had pleaded no contest to two counts of income tax evasion.

The complaint against Mainelli contained six counts, but the remaining four counts were dismissed at the request of Assistant U. S. Attorney William Spire.

Judge Donohoe said from the bench he did not believe there was any criminal intent, but he advised Mainelli to obtain competent assistants to prepare proper tax returns.

The amount allegedly evaded on the two counts totaled $45,897.

Large Oxygen System Placed Into Operation

OMAHA (AP)—What was described as the largest oxygen system in the state of Nebraska went into operation Thursday at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Sister M. Crescentia, administrator, turned a valve which sent oxygen into each of the general hospital's 225 patient rooms, recovery rooms, nursery and labor rooms.

The oxygen is piped through 7,000 feet of copper tubing and will eliminate the task of wheeling 170-pound cylinders about the hospital. The oxygen is brought to the hospital in liquid form at 315 degrees below zero. Each cubic inch of liquid oxygen expands to 862 cubic inches of gas.

Yates Says Utility Group Won't Withdraw From AEC Contract

... Probe Asked On Budget Unit Role

WASHINGTON (INS) — E. A. Yates of the Dixon-Yates utility group declared flatly Thursday that the company will not withdraw from its contract with the Atomic Energy Commission as demanded by the Democratic majority on the Atomic Energy Committee.

Yates declared in a statement: "The suggestion that we should withdraw from a sound contract because of the threat of continued harassment by a minority of critics would establish a dangerous precedent for our country."

Meanwhile, opponents of the controversial contract to provide privately produced power for the Tennessee Valley Authority, declared that the Securities and Exchange Commission may leave the government open for a damage suit if Congress repudiates the contract.

The SEC has been conducting hearings on the financial structure of the Dixon-Yates group preliminary to issuance of stock for construction of a steam power plant at West Memphis, Ark.

Good Faith
Yates, chairman of the board of the Southern Company, one of the two firms involved in the utility combine, declared that Congress had "approved this type of transaction when it passed the Atomic Energy Act of 1954."

He added: "Our company entered into this contract in good faith and only after careful study of all the factors involved. We have carried out our commitment as rapidly as we have been permitted to do so. We cannot withdraw and would not if we could."

The argument that the government might face a damage suit came from attorneys for the state of Tennessee and 35 others opposed to the arrangement.

Democratic legislators, meanwhile, demanded an investigation of the Budget Bureau's role in negotiations leading up to the power contract.

The new Democratic blast came in the publication of minority and majority reports on the congressional committee's hearings last November on the contract.

The committee's democrats charged that the Budget Bureau, which recommended the agreement, "improperly intervened" in the activities of the Atomic Energy Commission, with whom the contract was negotiated.

They also claimed that an AEC plan to allow tax charge-offs for the Dixon-Yates combine creates "the possibility that the company could receive a tax windfall" from the $536,250 annually to be set aside for taxes.

On the other hand, Republican members of the Senate-House group said that the contract with a private power firm was the alternative to spending 100 million dollars of tax money for additional plants for the Tennessee Valley Authority.

And the GOP legislators had harsh words for any such TVA operations. They declared: "Let us be frank—to adopt that policy would be rank, unrestrained, unadulterated socialism."

Noting that Congress has turned down funds for more TVA steam plants at least seven times, the Republicans said another power source was necessary and should be found to prevent further delays.

The new Democratic attack on the private contract for a 107-million-dollar plant at West Memphis, Ark., to feed power into the TVA lines came 24 hours after President Eisenhower said flatly he would not withdraw the agreement.

Man Convicted Of Verdel Slaying To Get Pardon Hearing In March

A hearing for Howard Wagner Jr., 29, Minneapolis, sentenced to 25 years in the State Penitentiary for a slaying at Verdel, Neb., seven years ago, has been set for March 9, the State Pardons Board announced Thursday.

Wagner was convicted of second degree murder by a Boone County District Court jury after confessing the fatal shooting of William C. Rule on June 16, 1947.

He testified at that time that he shot Rule with a .22 caliber rifle after an argument between the pair had resulted in blows being struck.

The records show that the two men had left the truck they were riding in so that Wagner could shoot at birds along the roadway with his rifle.

Independent Insurers Oppose Group Insurance For State Credit Unions

Representatives of insurance companies and underwriters groups opposed passage of a bill to permit credit unions to issue group life insurance on the basis of savings.

Ted Richling, Omaha lawyer appearing for the unions, said the plan is now in effect with the unions buying by mail life savings insurance. He said they wanted the companies licensed and supervised by the state.

Insurance Director Thomas Pansing, appearing at the request of the committee, said only two states permit sale of such insurance. He said in one of them grocers get group insurance on the basis of the amount of groceries a customer buys each week.

He agreed with the underwriters that the plan is foreign to the generally recognized principles of insurance. One insure-by-mail company, he said would be eligible to get a license in this state.

The bill was held for further study.

The committee reported out LB 45, a measure authorizing the withholding of pay from the salaries of state employees for the purchase of U.S. bonds.

The committee members cast six favorable votes with one abstention.

However, the measure was amended to include only state employees and not workers for other governmental subdivisions and to place the administration of the bill under department heads rather than the state auditor.

The changes were requested at a public hearing on the bill earlier.

Civil Defense— And Emergency

Common-sense preparation, readiness in the case of emergency, is what Civil Defense authorities are urging all American families to practice, and in the event of floods, storms—or an atomic attack—what makes more sense than to be prepared with a three-day supply of food for your family?

The very convenient food stores of 1955 with completely packaged "TV dinners" have made us forget our pioneer grandmothers and their well-stocked pantries prepared for week-long blizzards and isolated prairie winters. But what would you do if there were no current for your refrigerator and deep freeze, no gas for your stove, and you could not get to the corner store?

Starting in the second of a series of picture-articles on Civil Defense readiness is Mrs. Emily Schweitzer, a member of the Crounse Extension Club, who lives four miles north of Malcolm. Mrs. Schweitzer and her small daughter, Pauline, are checking the contents of a pantry cupboard which holds every food supply and item which their family would need in an emergency, including a covered jar of drinking water.

Emergency foods which will provide a balanced diet include canned fruits and vegetables, meat, fish, lots of fruit juices and soup, canned and powdered milk, packaged foods, cereals, raisins and chocolate.

If there is a baby in the family, include canned baby foods, and if someone in your family must have a special diet, such as diabetics, lay in extra supplies for their needs.

Don't store too much food, a three-day supply is all that is needed, but be sure each jar and box is properly sealed. Even a cellophane wrapper will protect food from atomic radiation, which must be removed by washing and wiping away—boiling won't do the job.

Include in your cupboard canned heat, emergency cooking utensils, paper cups, plates, towels and napkins. And please don't forget the can opener.

NO COMPLAINTS

WELL, we've always said we wanted our winter in the winter—and we're getting it, so we can't complain. We can't complain about the news this morning, either, because it involves some guests—a bride-elect, and a forthcoming event that will be receiving considerable comment within the next few weeks—

OUR guests are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Moore (Marjorie Dillman) who will come from Omaha this week-end to be the guests of Mrs. Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Dillman—Mr. Moore, we hear, will be back in Omaha on Monday, but Mrs. Moore plans to spend a week with her family.

THE bride-elect we mentioned is Miss Louise Stam, whose marriage to Myron Garfinkle will be solemnized on Sunday, March 6—

Today is the luncheon for which Mrs. Arthur Hill will be hostess at her home in honor of the bride-elect. Mrs. Hill has invited a small group of guests for the luncheon and an informal afternoon.

IN THE what-people-are-talking-about department—or if they aren't talking about it now—they soon will be—is the Nebraska Art Association's annual spring show which opens on Sunday, Feb. 27, and continues through Sunday, March 27.

There are some innovations this year. Instead of the gallery hostesses for the afternoon of the opening, there are to be gallery hosts, and in charge of rounding up the gallants who will be on hand to direct the throngs through the galleries, and perhaps attempt an explanation.

tion of various of the art works on display, will be E. J. Faulkner and John H. Ames.

We hear, too, that something new has been added to the Living Pictures which, this season, will be shown at the Howell Theater in the Temple building on the University of Nebraska campus—However, there still will be two performances.

THE background of any major undertaking, such as an art production, involves hard work on the part of many people, and this morning Mrs. E. J. Faulkner, president of the Nebraska Art Association, makes announcement of committee members whose talents and labors assure the success of the forthcoming show.

It could be said that perhaps the most important committee is the one labeled "Exhibition," for without an exhibit there could be no show—On the exhibition committee for the 1955 spring exhibit are Mrs. Arthur S. Raymond, chairman; Mrs. Thomas Woods, Fred Wells, Mrs. A. R. Edmiston, Mrs. Albert Speier, John C. Whitten, Marvin Robinson, Mrs. Lyle Holland, Mrs. Helene Foe, and Mrs. E. J. Faulkner. This committee works and plans under the able tutelage of Norman Geske, director of the University of Nebraska Art Galleries.

AN exceedingly popular committee includes those who are solely responsible for the planning and presentation of the Living Pictures. The general chairman of the committee is Mrs. Frank Turner whose assistants are:

Backgrounds: Mrs. Burnham Yates, Mrs. Richard Martin,

Mrs. William L. Beachly, Mrs. Dwight Cherry and Mrs. Joseph R. Seacrest.

Sewing, costumes: Mrs. Richard Wilson, Mrs. John J. Wilson, Mrs. William Ammon and Mrs. Howard Cather.

Properties: Mrs. Jack Stewart, Mrs. Joseph Silverman.

Make-Up committee: Mrs. William Cartmell, Mrs. William Hein, Mrs. Richard Agee, Mrs. Theodore Deal and Miss Marion Whitworth.

Committee for research: Mrs. Curtis D. Kimball and Mrs. Norman Shaw.

OTHER committees whose work is of equal importance to the show include the budget committee, composed of Mrs. Edward Walt, chairman; Mrs. Everett E. Angle and Richard Smith; gallery lectures, Marvin Robinson; publicity, Mrs. Walter W. White; catalogues, Mrs. Lyle Holland, Mrs. Howard Wilson; membership, Mrs. Everett Angle and Mrs. Albert Speier, co-chairmen; gallery hostesses (during the exhibition), Mrs. F. B. Baylor, Mrs. John M. Campbell; refreshment chairman, for the opening tea—Mrs. M. G. Volz; tea assistants committee, Mrs. A. J. Crocker, Mrs. Fred Morgan; chairmen of catalogue sales on the opening day, Mrs. Flavel Wright, Mrs. Duncan Sowles.

CHILDREN'S art has its place in the exhibition, too—and in charge of this department is Mrs. M. E. Vance, director of children's art, the University of Nebraska extension division. And while on the subject of children and art, we think we should tell you that Mrs. F. B. Baylor as chairman, and Mrs. Earl Coryell are in charge of the Saturday morning art classes for children.

We also want to mention that serving as historian for the NAA show is Mrs. C. F. Ladd—and that Fred Wells is in charge of the sales to individuals. Chairman of the Beatrice Exhibition is Mrs. Helene Foe.

New Officers Preside

New officers of the Nebraska Legislative Ladies League presided at the Thursday meeting held at Johnson Hall on the Wesleyan University campus, when faculty wives were special guests of the league.

Following greetings by Chancellor Leland A. Forrest, a program was presented under the direction of Miss Ethel Johnson, dean of women, which included piano numbers by Miss Gloria McCord and Miss Carolyn Watson, a reading by Miss Donna Roubush, and songs by Miss Mary Trail and Miss Jane Newberry, students at Wesleyan.

Mrs. Ralph Hill was chairman of the hostess committee assisted by Mrs. C. Petrus Peterson, Mrs. Ed Schwartzkopf, Mrs. J. E. Reed, Mrs. Kenneth McCaw and Mrs. Robert Perry all of Lincoln; Mrs. John Beaver of Beemer; Mrs. Robert Brower, Fullerton; Mrs. Roma Havens, Maryfield, Va.; Mrs. Karl Vogel, Omaha; Mrs. Herbert Duis, Gothenburg; Mrs. Mervin Bedford, Geneva; Mrs. Tom Dooley, Papillion; and Mrs. Earl Lee, Fremont.

Guest From Kentucky

A guest in Lincoln this week is Mrs. Maurice Perkins of Louisville, Ky. (at right), who arrived Wednesday evening with her husband, president of Optimists International.

Mrs. Perkins and the members of the Lincoln Opti-Mrs. Club were special guests Thursday noon when the Optimist Club entertained at luncheon honoring the organization's president. Pictured with Mrs. Perkins is Mrs. James B. Ewing, president of the Opti-Mrs. Club.

During their stay in Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Perkins are the houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Sharick.

Alcoholic Sales To Indians Advanced

... Bootlegging Trouble Cited; Coonrad Favors Liquor By Drink

Sale of alcoholic beverages to Indians in Nebraska would be authorized under LB 118 sent to general file by the public health committee of the Legislature Thursday. It was introduced by Sens. Morrison of Mitchell, Martin of Grand Island and Bridenbaugh of Dakota City.

The bill was introduced following a recommendation of the Committee on Human Relations appointed by Gov. Crosby. Kathryn Duerfeldt, Lincoln, a member of the committee, urged that the measure be passed on both moral and practical grounds. She said it would reduce the bootlegging created by the present law. Tal Coonrad of the State Liquor Commission expressing his personal views said the present law is a "terrific enforcement problem." He said that the law "puts bootleggers into business."

Favors By Drink Sale
Questioned by the committee if he did not believe that Indians who bought a bottle were inclined to drink all of it, he replied:

"Package sale increases drinking by both Indians and whites. A man may not want a jigger, but he doesn't want to take the rest of the bottle home so he drinks it. It may seem that I favor liquor by the drink and if we legalize sale, I do."

Testifying against the bill was Mrs. C. M. Pritchett of Lincoln, representing the WCTU, and Herluff Anderson, Marquette. Mrs. Pritchett said she opposed discrimination but thinks the state should encourage Indians to life on a higher level. Anderson said it is "not a privilege but a detriment" that is proposed.

The committee also decided to recommend favorably Resolution No. 4 by which Dr. G. Lee Sand-ritter of Hastings and Philip Vogt of Omaha would be invited to address the Legislature on mental health.

The committee held awaiting amendments LB 106 which would make hitch-hiking illegal.

They also reported out to general file LB 102 giving law enforcement officials authority to confiscate illegal fireworks at the time of making an arrest. It authorizes their destruction after conviction.

The anti-fireworks bill was sponsored by the Nebraska Volunteer Firemen's Association. They contended that it corrects errors in the bill passed two years ago.

Speaking for the bill were Fay Wood, Seward; Rev. W. C. Rundin, Wahoo, for the association and E. C. Iverson, state fire marshal.

Norden Estate To Exceed $100,000

The estate of Carl J. Norden Sr., founder of the Norden Laboratories, is expected to total in excess of $100,000, according to an executor.

An inventory filed in Lancaster County Court lists 3,204 shares of Norden Laboratories, and lesser amounts of stock in the Carpenter Paper Co., First National Bank of Lincoln, Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co., National Bank of Commerce, and Woodmen Central Life Insurance Co.

The inventory showed joint ownership of real estate in Lincoln, Phelps County, and Council Bluffs, Ia., and a $8,357.44 check account. Also listed in joint ownership were U.S. savings bonds with a maturity value of $16,000.

Mr. Norden left the major portion of his estate in trust for his wife, Emma H. Norden of Lincoln. His son, Carl J. Norden Jr., and the First Trust Company are executors of his will.

Andersen Resigns

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) Hans Christian Andersen's resignation was accepted Thursday night. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold said he had accepted the resignation of Andersen, a Danish economist who served as comptroller of the United Nations. No reason was given for Andersen's decision.

No Inquest Planned In Car Death Of Lincolnite

No coroner's inquest into the highway death of Merle W. Murdy, 40, of 4903 Lowell, was planned by late Thursday by Lancaster Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele.

No criminal negligence is indicated so far in the accident, Scheele said, but that investigation is not yet complete.

The Lincoln truck driver died as a result of a two-car crash on Highway 6 one mile east of Waverly about 3:30 a.m. Thursday, when the car he was driving struck the rear of an auto stalled on the highway.

His companion, Donald Reichenbach, 34, a Nebraska City truck driver, was reported in "fair" condition at Bryan Memorial Hospital.

Loses Eye

An attending physician said Reichenbach received serious head injuries and the loss of an eye in the accident.

The two Lincoln men who had been riding in the other car escaped injury, having left the stopped vehicle before the Murdy car crashed into it.

They were Frank Sheridan, 28, of 347 J, who had been driving the car, and Walter Grant, 23, of 116 L. The car is owned by Albert Woodhill of 204 So. 11th.

Dep. Co. Atty. Dale Fahrbruch said Sheridan and Grant told this story of the accident:

They were returning from Omaha where they had attempted to locate a relative of Woodhill. The car developed generator trouble near Waverly and the car's lights dimmed and the car stalled.

Could Not Start
Sheridan, who was driving, could not start the motor and the two men attempted to push the car from the road.

At this time they saw the Murdy car coming from the east and ran toward the car in an attempt to flag it down.

They jumped from the road when the driver failed to see their signal and crashed into the rear of the Woodhill car.

Fahrbruch quoted Sheridan as saying the lights of the Woodhill car "were on, but dim" and that there was a two-foot strip of red luminous tape on the car's rear bumper.

Fahrbruch said Murdy's body was found pinned behind the steering wheel and Reichenbach was in the back seat, although it appeared he had been in the front seat, but had crawled into the rear.

Murdy is survived by his wife, Lois; son, Alvin of Lincoln; mother, Mrs. James Murdy of Omaha; father, James Murdy of Tooele, Utah, and brothers, Durwood Murdy of Omaha; Ivo Murdy of Deadwood, S. D., and Elwynn of Caldwell, Ida.

He had lived in Lincoln for two years.

Junior College Vote Margin Upped

The Legislature Thursday amended the junior college bill to require an affirmative vote of 55 per cent to carry a proposal to extend a junior college district or set up a new one.

The original bill required only a majority vote.

Sen. Burney of Hartington, who offered the amendment, declared "we want the percentage to be high enough so we'll be sure the people want it."

"We don't want to encourage any more junior colleges until the people really want it," he added.

Four Colleges Now
There are four such colleges in Nebraska now—at Fairbury, McCook, Norfolk and Scottsbluff.

Sen. Metzger of Cedar Creek, opposing the higher percentage requirement, asserted the general level of education has risen from high school to junior college, and added:

"If people want to be included in a junior college district, we shouldn't stop them."

Sen. Beaver of Beemer pointed to Iowa as an example of what could happen.

"In Iowa," he said, "junior colleges blossomed out all over. Today they are closed."

Sen. Thompson of McCook was added to LB 57, as co-introducer. Others on the junior college bill are Sens. Morrison of Mitchell and Cramer of Albion.

Other action Thursday:
The 15-round boxing bill, LB 65, was moved back to general file to clear the way for possible amendment to cut the state's tax take from 10 per cent to 7 per cent. The state now gets 5 per cent. Sen. Thompson of McCook offered the motion, which will be called up latter.

Sen. Aufenkamp's proposal to reduce the ceiling on the pay of the secretary of the Board of Educational Lands and Funds from $7,500 to $6,000, in LB 2, failed by three votes. The count was 19 to 17. Aufenkamp needed 22 votes.

LEGISLATURE PASSES LB 20

The Legislature Thursday passed LB 20, providing for suspension of individual bounties when a county enters into a predatory animal control program.

Such suspension would be at the discretion of the county board. The vote was 39-0, and the bill carried the emergency clause, making it effective upon being signed by the governor.

Sens. McGinley of Ogallala, Cole of Merriman and Peterson of Sargent were the introducers. The predatory animal bill was the only measure up for passage Thursday.

CLEVELAND SIGNS BOB SMITH

Husker Star Picked As Halfback By Champions

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Bob Smith, Nebraska's all-Big Seven fullback Thursday signed a professional football contract with the world champion Cleveland Browns of the National Football League.

Ed Ulinski, the Browns' tackle coach, obtained Smith's signature in Lincoln. Terms of the contract were not revealed.

The former Grand Island high school star, who was the Husker workhorse in 1953 and a big part of the Orange Bowl squad's backfield, was drafted by the Browns in the 15th round of the NFL draft last week.

Ulinski came to Lincoln Thursday to make sure Smith came into Paul Brown's fold.

"We're signing Bob as a power halfback, not as a fullback," Ulinski told The Star. "He has been highly recommended to us by the Nebraska coaching staff and our scouts."

An interesting sidelight on Smith's draft was revealed by the Brown coach. Here's the story:

"During the draft meeting, we didn't know if he could 'catch the ball' (a Cleveland term which is interpreted to mean more than merely catching the ball) so we put in a call to Bob Davis (NU backfield coach)."

"We discovered that Davis was in the hospital, and the nurse told us that he couldn't come to the phone. It was our pick and we had to hurry, so the nurse was told to ask Davis if Smith 'could catch the ball.'"

He Can "Catch"

"She asked, 'Is that all,' and was assured that Davis would know what was meant. A minute later she told us, 'He (Davis) says Smith can catch the ball very well.'"

"We hung up and drafted him." After his playing days with the Browns—he was an offensive guard—Ulinski coached three years at Santa Clara (he knows Bob Decker who left the Huskers for the coast school) before the school quit football.

Then he moved to Purdue and took over the line coach job vacated by Mike Milligan when he came to Nebraska. Ulinski joined the Browns as a coach when Webb Ubank got the Baltimore post.

"You might say I'm living a charmed life," the personable coach grinned. "I've never been with the Browns when they didn't win the championship."

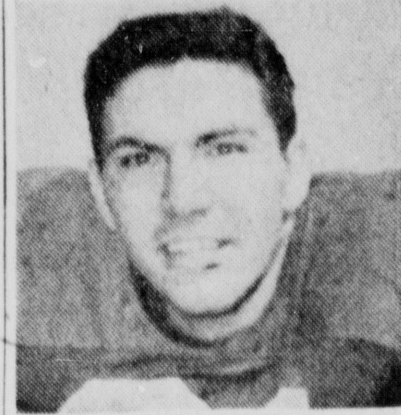

The Cleveland team has been in the pro playoffs for the last nine years, this year blasting the Detroit Lions, 56-10.

Ulinski said also that the Browns have not been informed by Otto Graham, their fine quarterback, that he is retiring.

"Otto has apparently told others that he won't play next year, but he's said nothing to us."

"We went to the draft to get another quarterback to replace him, but as of now there's nothing official," Ulinski said.

The young tackle coach said that the Browns will probably use Quarterback George Ratterman next fall, if Graham isn't back.

Voigts Resigns As Northwestern Boss

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Bob Voigts, 39, the "Old Grad" who tried to make good for eight seasons, Thursday resigned as Northwestern's head football coach. The name of another ex-Northwestern star, Otto Graham, immediately bobbed up as Voigts' successor.

Ranking behind only Illinois' Ray Eliot in point of Big Ten coaching service, Voigts said that because of criticism of his coaching he was quitting "for the good of the university." His contract was to expire September, 1956.

The criticism came from Northwestern's lettermen group, the "N" Club, which as long as a month ago began hunting for Voigts' scalp. One "N" Club officer had predicted: "We'll have a new coach by spring football practice."

Voigts' eight-season stay at Northwestern is matched in the Big Ten only by Stu Holcomb at Purdue and surpassed by Illinois' Eliot, who has been boss since 1942.

It was reliably reported the "N" Club had boosted Voigts for the Dartmouth coaching job, now filled, to ease his resignation.

Although Voigts' teams had a 33-39-1 record since he succeeded his former coach, Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf, in 1947, the Wildcats won only one of their last 12 Big Ten games. Northwestern defeated Illinois 28-26 in the finale of the 1952 season and then didn't win again in conference play until last fall's win against Illinois, 20-7.

Despite a 2-7 record last season, Voigts' scrappy Wildcats lost by only one touchdown to each of this year's Rose Bowl rivals. Northwestern bowed to Southern California, 12-7, and lost to the nation's No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll, Ohio State's Buckeyes, 14-7.

Athletic Director Ted Paysour said he was surprised by Voigts' resignation and would have to begin a search for a successor.

Haddix Inks Card Pact

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Left-hander Harvey Haddix, St. Louis Cardinal pitching mainstay who balked at his original contract offer this year, signed with the club Thursday at "more than $20,000."

Haddix, who flew here from his father's farm near South Vienna, Ohio, disclosed last week he had rejected an offer of the same pay he received last season, believed to be from $16,000 to $18,000.

The pitcher, who won 18 and lost 13 last year despite a mid-season injury, was the 18th Cardinal to come to terms.

Earlier Thursday the club announced receipt of the signed contracts of first baseman Tom Alston and pitchers Gordon Jones and Herb Moford.

Haddix said his left knee, injured when he was struck by a line drive by Joe Adcock of the Milwaukee Braves in mid-season last year, "feels perfectly fine again."

The injury probably prevented Haddix from repeating as a 20-game winner. He had a 12-4 record when he was hurt. He finished the season with an earned run average of 3.57 and had 184 strikeouts, just one shy of Robin Roberts', league-leading total.

Keed Starts 'Comeback' Try Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—How much has Kid Gavilan got left?

That's the question before the house tonight when the Cuban Keed, stripped of his welterweight title in his last start Oct. 20, goes back to work after doing the mambo for three months.

If Gavilan's work with a stage show dance troupe has the same effect on his legs that similar hoofing had on Sugar Ray Robinson's, the Keed could be in deep trouble.

Ernie Durando, the guy in the other corner, can hit. He can't do much else but he really can hit. If Gavilan has gone back far enough, Durando will find out.

NU Baseball Starts Monday

The University of Nebraska baseball squad will start workouts Monday with a 35 man roster that includes eight returning lettermen.

Dick Spady of Hastings, a university student who spent six years in the Brooklyn Dodger chain, will handle the workouts until Coach Tony Sharpe is relieved of his basketball chores.

Returning lettermen include Murry Backhaus of Millard, catcher; Bill Giles of Alliance, first base-outfielder; Norm Coufal of David City, shortstop; Dirkes Rolston of Forsyth, Mont., infielder; Jim Cederdahl of Lincoln, outfielder; Don Becker of Lincoln, outfielder; Fran Hofmaier of Crofton, pitcher, and Dick Geier of Lincoln, pitcher.

The schedule includes a nine day southern tour of Oklahoma and Texas.

Wesleyan Shenanigans Befuddle Wayne

By GEORGE PAYNICH
Star Sports Staff Member

It's beginning to appear that aside from possibly Hastings, there is not a team around in the Nebraska College Conference with enough experience to stop the title-bound Nebraska Wesleyan club.

The cocky and relaxed Plainsmen toyed with Wayne, 75-47, at the Taylor gym Thursday night and appeared to be readying the establishment for the clowning Harlem Globetrotters who buzz into town tonight for an exhibition.

Backhand passes were the rule as the victors emerged from some early game shenanigans that failed, into more successful shenanigans that left the Wayne club completely bewildered at halftime, 43-16.

Leading the attack once again were versatile Jack Wood and deadend Mel Sheary. Wood continued to entrance Wesleyan fans with his fancy passing and fine shooting. Sheary remains the cool one-hand shooting attraction.

Big Paul Fredstrom was the only veteran who didn't get in on the fun. The ex-Northeast star had a poor night with only two points and dropped the Plainsmen scoring lead to Sheary. In fact, almost every member of the starting Wesleyan five moved into the pivot post and scored but Fredstrom.

Almost minutes elapsed before

Wesleyan moved. The first few minutes provided every thrill in the book, but no points. The confident Plainsmen finally moved into complete command as Rich Jennings hit to make it 13-6. Wood added six more and Kroeger four and the rout was on at 27-10.

Wayne Samuelson, Dave Meyer and Erik Radke added six to the meager Wildcat attack—it produced only three field goals in the first half—but clever Wesleyan play made it hopeless at halftime.

Foster McGuire's fine tip-in rebounding featured second half play for the winners while Bob Ennis added spark to the visitors' attack to make it a more interesting ball game.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star

One of the last things we'd think about on a cold, blustery winter's day is golf.

But we've just received a copy of the annual report of the United States Golf Association's executive committee and it's interesting reading.

Take the growth of the association for instance.

Founded Dec. 22, 1894, the group then had five member clubs. Now there are 1,842 clubs.

While maintenance of golf courses was not much of a business in 1894, it is in 1955. Proof of this is the fact that five agronomists are located in strategic spots around the country to counsel member clubs on the care of fairways and greens.

The association provides a Regional Turf Service (green section) and in 1954 it opened new regional offices at Tifton, Ga., and Rutgers University at New Brunswick, N. J. Other offices are at Davis, Cal., College Station, Tex., and Beltsville, Md.

This program provides service to clubs in 25 states, and plans are being made to expand.

The Green Section also sponsored research at various experimental stations, not to mention the fact that a putting green was installed on the White House lawn for the benefit of a fellow named Ike.

One last note on the growth of the golf game is the report that the first USGA championships drew 32 entries for the amateur and 11 for the open.

In 1954 there were 1,278 entries in the amateur and 1,923 in the open.

That's progress which has to be recognized, even if the recognition is made at a time when a blizzard warning is out.

Former NU grinner and track star Harry Meginnis has a real fish story, and he has Don Pegler Jr., to back him up.

It seems Meginnis and Pegler were fishing off Acapulco, Mexico and Harry hooked a monstrous sailfish, but suddenly the line snapped.

Now comes the exciting part. While Harry saw his sailfish splashing away, a Mexican boy on the boat pulled off his shirt and dived in the sea.

Harry's hero caught the loose end of the line, wrapped it around his ankle, and was picked up by the boat. The line was then tied once again to Harry's fishing pole and he proceeded to wind in the sailfish.

Jim Watson, Lincoln Chiefs' board member, is recuperating in a Kearney hospital following surgery. He's expected back in Lincoln around the 11th of February.

Preliminaries will be Friday, with the finals slated Saturday. Action both nights starts at 8 p.m.

LAFB Strong
John Wilkinson, Lincoln lightweight-welterweight, will be on hand to defend his title. He also won the Midwest Golden Gloves crown in Omaha last year. Wilkinson, a hard hitter, is handled by veteran Jack Fickler of Ashland.

Jack Richardson of Lincoln has entered the middleweight division. He was novice Golden Gloves champ at Akron, O., last year. He also is fighting unattached.

Air Force entries include Art Gugliemelli, who has 155 fights in the record books, blotted by only eight losses. He's a featherweight.

Big Money To Phils' Ennis

PHILADELPHIA — Outfielder Del Ennis signed his 1955 contract with the Philadelphia Phillies Thursday for an undisclosed salary that General Manager Roy Hamey said makes Ennis one of the higher paid players in the National League.

Neither Ennis nor Hamey would even hint at the big outfielder's salary although it is believed he'll receive about $30,000. Ennis expressed satisfaction with the deal and said he hoped to better his .261 batting average of 1954.

Ennis drove in 119 runs, topping the 100 RBI figure for the third straight year and for the fifth time in his nine years with the club. The native Philadelphian hit 25 home runs and is one of the few active National League outfielders to have over 200 homers. He has a lifetime RBI total of 909.

Judson Hargrove will be one of several LAFB middleweight entries. He is an experienced boxer and was runnerup in the Far East Air Force tourney in 1952.

Lightweight David Jackson also looms as a possible champ for the LAFB. Although he has fought only 16 times, Jackson has showed the poise of a veteran in workouts. He won two titles while stationed in Okinawa.

Leon Sexton boasts a 23-4 record as an Air Force bantamweight. Harold Cochran won 20 of 24 bouts and is a middleweight threat. He owns a very fast left and hits hard with both hands.

Still another bright LAFB prospect is George Gordipee, a 147-pounder who has been among the standouts in workouts at Nebraska Wesleyan during the past three weeks.

The Air Force fighters have an edge on their competitors in conditioning. They have had three or more weeks of hard, daily workouts, supervised by Coach John McCoid, a vet amateur boxer, and Gugliemelli.

Champs Missing
Additional entries are expected from Falls City and, possibly, David City and Midland College.

Offutt Air Force Base is not entering a team but a couple of fighters from there may show up. Lincoln Athletic Boxing Club has been inactive this year. The LABC is the defending team champ.

All persons interested in entering the tournament must pass a physical examination at the Lincoln Hotel Friday afternoon. Physical exams and official entry blanks will be available for boxers between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. Friday.

Holmesville To Finals With Filley

BEATRICE—Defending Champion Filley won 20 points by talented Harlan Steffes for a 48-44 victory over stubborn Clatonia in the semi-finals of the Gage County Tournament Thursday night and will meet favored Holmesville in the finals Friday.

Holmesville built a strong early lead and survived a second half rush by Cortland for a 40-36 triumph in the other semifinal game Thursday.

Filley led all the way against Clatonia as slim Fiekes, a star in the tournament last winter, connected consistently to lead his team over another hurdle in its drive toward another title.

Ken Wrightsman and Claire Duensing scored 10 points each for Holmesville in the close victory over Cortland.

Ron Lahm got 18 for Cortland in a losing effort.

Rocket Gymnasts Thumps Beatrice

Class B Championship Game Heads Slim City Cage Slate

Teachers, perennial winner of the city Class B basketball championship, puts up a shaky bid for a repeat title tonight in the feature game of a short city basketball schedule.

Three games make up the slate. Teachers plays College View at Irving in the title game, North Platte meets unbeaten Lincoln High and Cathedral faces mighty Omaha Holy Name at Omaha. Both local games start at 8 p.m.

Teachers and College View both have wins over Cathedral, and although the Tutors won handily while the Viewmen were pressed, Teachers is far from being a heavy favorite.

Improving College View beat Wahoo last week. Wahoo previously had stopped the Tutors.

Teachers has a 5-5 record and the Viewmen are 5-3. Coach Dale Snook's starting Teachers lineup will probably include Rolland Worster, Harry Huge, Bob Kaminski, Bill Hunsaker and Larry Witt.

Rex Mercer's host Viewmen will likely open with Glenn Hoy, Lynn Hatcher, Dan Duff, Jack Harvey and Dick Madden.

North Platte (7-4) offers a fair challenge to the high-riding Lincoln Links (11-0), but the Links will be favored on their home Wesleyan court. North Platte has lost to Northeast and Scottsbluff, two teams the Links handled with ease.

Holy Name, undefeated and ranked second in the state in Class A, will provide a stiff test for Cathedral. A Bluebird win would be a major upset. Holy Name will have a height advantage at every position.

Springfield Wins Conference Meet
Lincoln Star Special
BOYS TOWN — Undefeated Springfield won its 16th straight game and its first Eastern Nebraska Conference tournament Thursday night on a 38-36 victory over surprising Elkhorn.

The Tigers trailed in the first and second quarters but fought to a 38-32 advantage late in the last period.

Then Elkhorn rallied for six points and almost caught the Tigers, the team which already has clinched the conference championship.

Twelve straight free throws by Duane Neitzel sophomore star for Springfield, was the big factor in the Tiger triumph. He scored 20 points for the night.

Ump Duffy Steps Down

... Charges 'Pressure'

PAWTUCKET, R. I. —Umpire Jim Duffy quit baseball Thursday, charging "pressure" from two teams and American League President Will Harridge immediately tabbed the charge "utterly ridiculous and completely untrue."

Duffy says he was "fired" by Harridge because of "pressure from the Boston Red Sox and the Chicago White Sox."

A resident here who works as an automobile salesman in the off-season and referees National Basketball Association games, Duffy, 32, was sent to the International League to umpire last year after three seasons in the AL.

"I feel that Harridge, who is personally a very fine gentleman, found it easier to dump me than to offend any club owners whom he must satisfy," Duffy stated.

Clubs Surprised
General Manager Joe Cronin of Boston and Frank Lane of Chicago were surprised upon hearing the charges and said their organizations had no part in any "pressure."

"I asked Mr. Harridge about my status for 1955 and learned that I am now a free agent. Evidently there is no possibility of my returning to the major leagues so I am quitting."

Pressure Firing
"I conclude that it was pressure from the Boston Red Sox and Chicago White Sox that caused Harridge to fire me," Duffy continued. "I was told this by several of the senior umpires in the league. They said these two clubs pressured Harridge into sending me out (to the International League) a year ago."

From Chicago, Harridge was prompt in issuing a statement: "Ordinarily, I would not care to enter into any controversy with Jim Duffy but after reading his press statement I am forced to say he is a bit confused to why he was not re-employed by the American League."

"He was a member of our umpire staff through 1951, 1952 and 1953. Because we felt he did not measure up to the standards of the American League, he was optioned out to the International League for the season of 1954, and was guaranteed by the American League a salary that season equal to what he received as a member of our staff."

"As regards the charge of pressure by clubs, I must make this statement. His contentions that pressure by two clubs resulted in his release is utterly ridiculous and completely untrue."

Linville Puckett, 6-foot junior, took exception to a Rupp statement that Puckett had asked to be reinstated and had been turned down. Rupp said he told Puckett the situation had gone too far to take him back.

"I didn't ask him to put me back on the team," said Puckett. "I just told him I didn't want to leave the impression that I quit because I was mad at him."

Puckett gave his version of a meeting with Rupp as he packed preparatory to moving from the basketball dormitory on the university campus. He said he didn't know where he was going.

"I broke training, but I'm not the only one," said the 21-year-old player. He refused to elaborate.

When he announced his resignation Wednesday night, Puckett was quoted as saying he was leaving because basketball at Kentucky "isn't regarded as a game but as a matter of life or death with resemblance of one going to war."

Rupp, meanwhile, pronounced squad morale "very excellent."

Puckett was the team's fifth leading scorer with an average of nearly 10 points a game. He was a clever ball handler who often set up goals with his deft passing, some of it crowd-pleasing, behind-the-back throws to teammates breaking for the basket.

Puckett Denies Reinstatement Asked At KU
LEXINGTON, Ky. — A first-string guard on the University of Kentucky's No. 1-ranked basketball team, who quit after criticizing Coach Adolph Rupp's tactics, denied Thursday he had asked reinstatement.

Linville Puckett, 6-foot junior, took exception to a Rupp statement that Puckett had asked to be reinstated and had been turned down. Rupp said he told Puckett the situation had gone too far to take him back.

"I didn't ask him to put me back on the team," said Puckett. "I just told him I didn't want to leave the impression that I quit because I was mad at him."

Geneva-Cozad Tilt, Omaha Games Tops

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member
Tip-off time in tonight's state basketball show will find fans at Cozad and Omaha settling down to two of the big games of the maturing season.

Out in the hay country of central-state, Cozad—a state champion only two years past—will be challenged by Geneva's tenacious Wildcats. Once again the Haymakers are a power, but their No. 2 rating in the Class A field will be under perhaps its heaviest pressure from the hustling Class B club from Fillmore County.

In Omaha the Benson-Creighton Prep battle will eliminate the loser from Intercity title consideration and increase the prestige of the winner. Benson is third in the AA rating and Prep is fourth.

North Platte brings its point machine to Lincoln to fight the undefeated Links while strong Boys Town is at McCook.

York is at Blair, Grand Island at Hastings, Ord at Fullerton and unbeaten Loup City at Ravenna in other games of note.

Tonight's schedule:
Albion at Newman Grove
Brussels at Alliance
Scottsbluff at Alliance

Stall Works For Weston

WAHOO — Weston and Cedar Bluffs crashed into the finals of the Saunders County tournament Thursday night in close victories.

Weston stalled six minutes of the last quarter and slipped past Mead, 29-25. Cedar Bluffs got past Prague, 56-48.

Weston and Cedar Bluffs will play for the title tonight at 8:30 following a consolation game between the semifinal losers.

Cedar Bluffs 17 13 12 14-56
Prague 14 7 17 10-48
Mead almost caught Weston in the third quarter but slipped in the last period and could not break the Weston stall.

Weston 8 11 7 7-29
Mead 8 4 9 4-25

Public Had More $$$ Last Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite the business downturn which lasted most of 1954, the public had more income and more spending money last year than ever before, the Commerce Department reported Thursday.

In the last two months of the year, the Department said, the income of individuals—personal income—sailed above the peak rate achieved in the business boom of 1953.

Disposable, or spendable, income—which is total personal income minus personal taxes—amounted to 254 billion dollars in 1954, or about 3½ billions above the previous record in 1953, the report said. This increase in purchasing power, despite a rise in unemployment, was described as chiefly the result of the approximately 10 per cent reduction in federal income taxes which went into effect Jan. 1, 1954.

256½ Billion
Total personal income in 1954 was computed at 286½ billion compared with the previous high of 286 billion in 1953.

The report said total personal income held up despite the business downturn, which clipped nearly 2½ billions off of wages and salaries, mainly because dividend and interest payments and unemployment benefits rose during the year, virtually balancing the drop.

In December, with business recovery under way, personal income rose to a peak rate of 291 billion a year. That was about 1½ billions above a revised annual rate of 289½ billions given for November.

Revised Upward
The Commerce Department last month reported November personal income at an annual rate of 287½ billions, but this month revised the figure sharply upward on the basis of later data.

Farm income continued its decline in 1954, dropping from 16 billion in 1953 to 15½ billion.

Runway Opened; Noise To Decrease

Operations at the Lincoln Air Force Base will be stepped up with completion five months ahead of schedule of the new 10,600 foot north-south runway.

The big runway, 200 feet wide and an average of 33 inches thick, will take over in the place of the existing 8,000 foot runway now being used by the B-47 bombers and KC-97 refueling tankers.

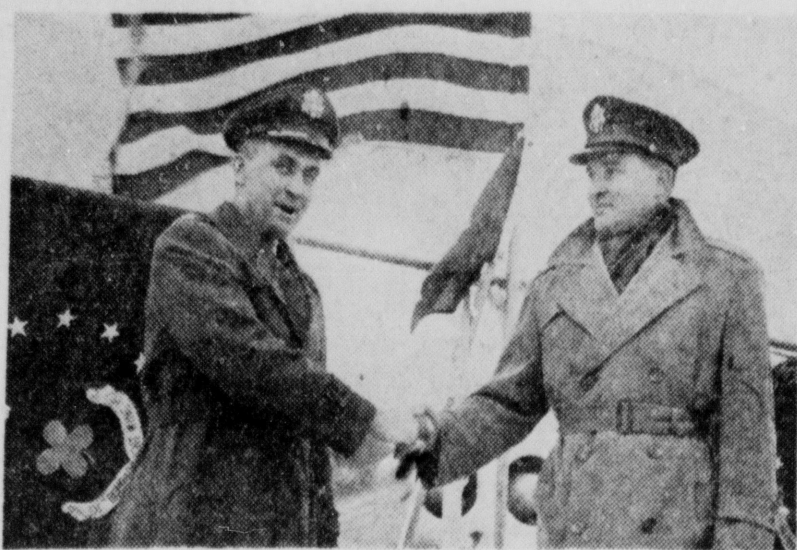

With the beginning of operations on the new runways, the noise of the B-47s flying over Lincoln will be greatly reduced. The bombers will take off and come in over West O, more than three miles from the corner of 10th and O.

The runway which has been in use points right toward Lincoln.

The new runway is the major part of a general overall contract of $3,757,020. Other work under the contract will be completed by summer.

The runway was turned over to the Air Force in freezing outdoor ceremonies by the Army Corps of Engineers which constructed it. Representing the Corps at the ceremonies were Col. Daniel Richards, assistant Omaha district engineer; Sid Price, Omaha, assistant construction division engineer and Ray Leonard, public information officer for the area engineers.

Accepting the runway for the Air Force was Col. Frank Colman, 98th Bomb Wing commander, representing Col. Claude E. Putnam, 818th Air Division commander.

2 Brothers Guilty In Man's Death

GALENA, Ill. (INS)—Two brothers charged with manslaughter in the death of an East Dubuque, Ill., man were found guilty Thursday by a Circuit Court jury, following three hours of deliberation. They are Paul Joseph Dodds, 31, of Cuba City, Wis., and Gerald Lee Dodds, 29, of Dubuque, Ia.

The men were charged in the death Aug. 18 in an East Dubuque tavern of John Buse, 28, following a fist fight.

Sentence was deferred by the court until Feb. 28 at which time the defense attorney said he will file a motion for a new trial.

New Kind Of Party

CHICAGO (INS)—The University of Chicago Quadrangle Club has dreamed up a new—and slightly alcoholic—way to raise money. On Feb. 11, for the benefit of the Hyde Park Art Center, the club will stage a "wine-tasting" party. Some 200 civic and social leaders have been invited to imbibe—for a nominal fee.

Fred Brown, 75, Last Democrat Governor Of New Hampshire, Dies

SOMERSWORTH, N. H. (AP)—Fred H. Brown, 75, the last Democratic governor of New Hampshire and a U. S. senator during the early days of the New Deal, died Thursday at his home.

A native of Ossipee, he served one term in the governor's chair from 1923-24 and one term in the Senate from 1933 to 1939 when he was defeated for re-election by the late Sen. Charles Tobey.

After his defeat, then President Franklin D. Roosevelt named him comptroller general of the United States, but he resigned because of ill health in a few months.

Later, Roosevelt appointed him to the U. S. Tariff Commission but again Brown was forced to quit because of his health. However, he remained a confidante of Roosevelt and later President Truman.

Counties File Gas Tax Suit Demurrers

Demurrers of Madison and Stanton Counties have been filed in the gas tax suit brought by former State Treasurer Frank Heintze against the 93 counties.

In the action testing the sufficiency of Heintze's petition, the two counties allege that on its face it appears that the plaintiff has not the legal capacity to sue in behalf of the state as he is no longer state treasurer.

Heintze filed the action during the last month of his office and deposited nearly $3 million representing collected gas tax funds and asked the court to make proper distribution.

The demurrers also allege Heintze states no cause of action, has improperly joined the defendants, and that matters raised in the petition are before the court in another action.

In another filing, Box Butte County asks the Lancaster District Court on cross-petition for an accounting of funds, determination of the amount due, but not paid, to the county, and immediate partial distribution of the funds to alleviate a hardship being worked upon the county.

The county contends the gas tax statutes are "clear and unambiguous" and that Heintze failed to make distribution as directed by law and should be required to account for his acts and doings.

State Bank Resources Drop Three Tenths Of One Pct.

Nebraska bank resources declined three tenths of one per cent or $1,591,791.68 during 1954, the State Banking Department reports.

The decline included $271,000 cash and due from banks, $2,601 U.S. Government obligations, $732,000 other bonds, and $1,037 loans.

Municipal obligations increased $3,027.

The annual report of the State Banking Department said demand deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations declined about five million dollars.

However, capital accounts increased "an amount sufficient to compensate to a large extent for the decline in total deposits," the department said.

Agricultural loans comprised about 70 per cent of all loans during the year. Another 24 per cent of the total was composed of guaranteed loans made up of Commodity Credit Corporation, FHC, and veterans loans.

Guaranteed Rail Wage Is Labor Target

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Organized labor Thursday spread to the railroad industry its drive to win the guaranteed annual wage in 1955.

Six AFL unions comprising the railway employees department announced they will make the guaranteed annual wage their "main objective" in contract demands this year for 350,000 shop workers on the nation's railroads.

Pay For Year

The CIO Auto Workers Union is seeking the GAW as a prime goal in auto industry bargaining this year, seeking assurance of continued pay for as long as a year for workers becoming unemployed.

President Michael Fox of the AFL railway employees department said details of the GAW plan still remained to be worked out but he pointed out that the Seaboard Air-line Railroad has had a form of the GAW in effect since 1929.

Fox said the Seaboard plan does not represent what the AFL wants in the way of GAW but shows "it can be done." Under the Seaboard arrangement, he said, rail shop maintenance work is spread out on a year-around basis so most workers are assured of steady employment.

"Critical unemployment among shopmen compels us to take this protective step," Fox declared. "Layoffs have been widespread and heavy, particularly during the latter months of 1954. Decisive action must be taken to prevent further suffering among the men."

"We believe that the drastic and extreme fluctuations in railway employment could have been avoided had a guaranteed wage program been in effect in the industry."

Fox said between 55,000 and 60,000 shop workers were laid off by the railroad industry last year and few were reemployed. He said details of the rail GAW plan would be worked out at a Chicago convention April 22 and demands served on the railroads shortly thereafter.

Note To All You Capitalistic Hubbies: Your Wife Hates You

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP)—Women in capitalist countries have been enslaved by men and consequently married women hate their husbands. Love between men and women is only possible under communism where women have gained complete equality.

These are the twin themes of an article in the magazine Questions of Philosophy by A. G. Kharchev. He concludes that the family unit is falling apart and the birth rate declining catastrophically in capitalist countries and especially the United States. He says:

"In capitalist society a woman is supposed to stick to the kitchen, her children, church and clothes. A woman is not considered a whole human being capable of carrying on fruitful labor, political and cultural activities. This brings about an unavoidable mutual hatred between married couples. Unfaithfulness and prostitution are growing from year to year. The crisis of the family is symbolized in the citadel of modern capitalism—the United States."

In an array of statistics, there is one which Kharchev does not feature—statistics showing that the birth rate in the United States was higher in 1954 than at any time in history, that it was the highest for decades in France and is rising constantly all over the West.

"A solid, truly monogamous family based on mutual love and friendship between husband and wife can be created only by doing away with the oppression and enslavement of the female half of humanity," he wrote.

VOLUPTUA BOUNCES BACK, SAYS SHE SPENT NIGHT WITH FRIEND

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Voluptua, a 6-foot blonde from Brooklyn with a flair for getting herself talked about, ended a police search Thursday by calling officers and informing them she had spent the night with a friend.

The statuesque showgirl, nee Gloria Pall, didn't say where she was calling from, but said she was safe and would "be right in to pick up the car" she left parked on Pacific Coast Highway last night.

"I was upset," she was quoted by Lt. A. R. Trout. Voluptua was fired two days ago from her television program reportedly because of complaints she was too sexy.

Miss Pall was not too deflated by the loss of her job of introducing old movies. She bounced into a part on another TV show Wednesday.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was irregular Thursday with the tendency toward lower prices. The day as a whole was a rather quiet affair with volume relatively low and price movements generally narrow.

Steel were lower and most motors were down. Railroads were on balance. The American Stock Exchange was mixed on volume of 1,100,000 shares as compared with 1,110,000 shares traded Wednesday.

Other Grains Down, But Soybeans Rally

CHICAGO (AP)—All grains except soybeans declined on the Board of Trade Thursday.

Soybeans rallied during the afternoon, canceling out morning losses in all contracts except March.

The market had a distinctly weak tone from the start. Its most notable feature was a lack of interest in the futures.

Wheat recovered about a cent from the day's loss before closing. Corn, on the other hand, was weaker, closing 1/2 cent lower.

Wheat closed 1/2 cent lower, corn 1/2 cent lower, soybeans 1/2 cent higher and soybean meal 1/2 cent higher.

The market moved only one brief buying rally, which came on the heels of a new Premier China order of Red China from the United Nations.

Security Council and the United Nations Security Council and the United Nations Security Council.

This was the major prodder for soybeans, which rallied to close. Its effect quickly wore off on other grains, however.
